2 THE WAY IT WAS IN 1775

June 7—The Continental Congress moves that July 20 be observed through the colonies as a day of humiliation, fasting and prayer for divine guidance.

June 8—The Provincial Congress in Watertown, Mass., tells the Moheakumuck Indian tribe, "We have now made our hatchets, and all instruments of war, sharp and bright."

Granite City sewers south of Granite City. Steel hot water

Ed Juneau of the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab engineering and consulting firm, chief explained that the sewers in Nameoki and Chouteau ties into 87 to 90-inch pipe which is the city's main outlet s

There is no danger to that sewer, which is very sound. We have reached agreement with Granite City and with the Environmental Protection Agency, and everyone feels that will be a good place to tap on.

"There is adequate capacity there," he said. "We have been talking about this for a long time," the engineer commented.

Junega said there are ten-ous on facts.

emphasized that, except for one small line from V Township, the Four Towns Sewer Program will be pletely separate from Granite City sewers until join near the Granite sewage treatment plant, engineers commented.

He added that residents

DEMOLISHED TRUCK is inspected by St. Elizabeth Trooper H. J. Fitzgerald after the vehicle plunged approximately 75 feet off the McCambridge Avenue viaduct at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. Abram White of Madison, driver of the pickup, escaped with minor injuries. White, 75, was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital after treatment.

Henderson and Archer Sparks were on duty and reported seeing a man, a woman and a child in the alley behind the building. The cab had been entered and a tool box of one of the trucks had been opened. Two pairs of bolt cutters

Sgt. Woods then yelled, "Police. Put your hands up."

Paddlers plan summer parties

Paddlers Swim Club, 3121 Johnson Road, will host two parties for members this month to officially open the social activities of the club for the current year.

An adult party is scheduled Saturday, June 28, at the Collinsville Holiday Inn, according to Mrs. Donna Dionea and Mrs. Rose Miller, co-chairmen of the summer events.

Reservations for the dinner dance, costing $22 per couple, which includes cocktail hour with setup and a buffet, must be made by Tuesday with either chairman.

A teen-age party will take place at the pool site from 6:30 to 10 p.m. on Friday, June 26, featuring the "Medusa" band. Tickets at $1.50 may be purchased in advance or at the gate on the evening of the event, according to the chairman.

For more information, members may contact Mrs. Dionea at 452-2188 or Mrs. Miller at 477-2726.

DAV Auxiliary to host veteran party

Plans for a party to be held June 15 at the Jefferson Barracks Veterans Hospital were finalized during a business meeting of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary Tuesday night at the DAV Hall.

Commander June Scherger presided at the session and reviewed the annual Parade of Flags held on Memorial Day. She announced special thanks will be extended to Lynn Mitko and 53 members who completed the arrangements for the memorial observance.

Others attending the monthly meeting were Mesdames Pat Slacker, Wilma Doerfl, Louise Schill, Bert Kichler, Barbara Mitko, Sue Holt.

A social gathering will be held June 17 at the DAV Hall.

SIGN UP NOW FOR SUMMER LEAGUE TENNIS TRI-MOR BOWL

Seniors plan June dinner dance

Plans for a dinner dance in June were made at a meeting of the Golden Age Circle Club held last week at the Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center. Party attended the business session and program.

Activities taking place at the "Conference on Aging," at Belleville Area College in May, were summarized by Mrs. Corbett, club president. She also announced a gift of cooking utensils has been made by Dan Partney to the Granite City Senior Citizens' Center.

A rally for area seniors is planned from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. June 18, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Mrs. Vira Law announced. She said a luncheon will be served, costing $1 per person.

Mrs. Eva Durham conducted memorial services for 12 members who died within the past year. Tribute was accorded to the late Bernadette Sola, Donald W. Partney, John J. Giese, John Tansley Jr., Robert G. Thomas, Jesse Sparks, Florence Hillis, Peter Ernst, Katie Peacock, Lorenzo Dumas, Ada Chapman and Olive McColligan.

Members reported all were Ruby Hartline, Celia Davis, Clara Ansel, Carmen Allen, Emma Toppie, Julia McLean, Nancy McIntosh, Mathilda Berther, Grace Dabo, John Winkles, Lloyd Davis, Elsie Lung and William Kiebacker. In the social hour, games were played and prizes were awarded to Art Lindner, Georgia Butler, Verlen Giffin and Catherine Alexander.

Birthday honorees were Nettie Hillmer, Clara Leebetter, Arthur Lindner, Anna Miller and Pauline Erlinger. Mrs. Corbett led the pledge to the flag and a prayer.

New opinion on quorum issue

The Township Officials of Illinois organization has issued an opinion which differs from a legal opinion given to the Namekoi Town Board by its attorney H. Carl Runge.

Troy A. Kost, executive secretary of the Township Officials of Illinois, responded in a letter to Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a township resident who had requested an opinion on the definition of a quorum for the town board.

In the letter, Kost said, "In any of the town board meetings, a full board is four auditors and the supervisor, and a quorum would have to be at least three people."

Runge earlier issued a legal opinion for the Namekoi Town Board that any two members may constitute a quorum. The ruling allowed Auditor Norman Hessler to remain on the board after resigning his resignation. Hessler resigned at the Jan. 13 Town Board meeting but was convinced to continue to serve until a suitable replacement could be found.

The following day, board members stopped individually by the town hall and signed a waiver of notice of a special meeting, allowing a meeting to be held that night to reinstate Hessler.

Only Supervisor Louis Whitwell and one board member attended the meeting where Hessler was reinstated. Mrs. Hawkins later questioned the legality of the action and Runge submitted a written legal opinion to the board April 14 in which he said any two board members can constitute a quorum.

Kost also sent Mrs. Hawkins a copy of the "Guide and Duties of Township Officials" book which includes a paragraph, "If a special meeting is called, the township clerk must give the membership of said board at least 48 hour notice."

Mrs. Hawkins said the book clearly shows that the signing of the waiver of notice of the special meeting also was illegal. She contends Hessler has not been legally seated as a member of the town board since Jan. 13 and all actions taken by the board where his vote determined the issue are not binding.

The Town Board may discuss the issue at its next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the town hall, 4250 Highway 162.

Outline medical technologists' career field

The SIUE Department of Biological Sciences will hold an annual Medical Technology Information Conference at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Illinois Room of the University Center.

High school and university students and other persons who would like to learn about the work and training of medical technologists are invited to attend.

The film, "In a Medical Laboratory," will be shown. Education coordinators from regional hospital schools of medical technology and an SIUE student presently completing the internship will discuss the field and answer questions. Refreshments will be served.

Fight rail abandonment

A statewide steering committee to reorganize opposition to the U.S. Railway Association's proposals for abandonment of some state rail lines has been set up at a Rail Abandonment Conference on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Robert Graves, an executive with FS Services, Inc., a farm supply cooperative, was elected chairman of the group. The 100 conference participants told him to select committee members from citizen groups throughout the state and to seek an early meeting with the state legislature transportation committee.

The steering committee is to represent business, industry, agricultural and citizen interests concerned about government railroad reorganization and abandonment proposals.

In a brief conference appearance, Cong. Paul Simon (D-Carbondale) called for preservation of essential railroad services, roadbed and rail improvements, and an immediate effort to ease the burdens on financially-strapped railroads and prevent "nibbling away" at rail service through line abandonments.

Simon said government assistance to railroads should give priority that they use income to improve service rather than investing in non-rail industry, and that railroads be allowed to sell truckage assets throughout the state and to seek an early meeting with the state legislature transportation committee.

Mrs. Elaine Kaiser, northern Illinois attorney for the Rail Service Planning Organization, Washington, D.C., declared that the USRA violated the Railroad Reorganization Act when it used "only profitability standards" in drawing up preliminary abandonment plans for Northeastern and Midwestern areas.

She said social and environmental factors weren't included in the plans, and she charged that the USRA used inaccurate data to reach its conclusions.

Truck brakes basis of suit

Roy Rogers of Caseyville has filed a suit in Madison County Circuit Court seeking $100,000 from the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

He alleges that on April 29 while employed as a driver with the railroad, he was seriously injured when the truck he was driving collided with a truck driven by a Trenton man at Route 203 and Bend Road.

Rogers, who was charged after the accident by Illinois state police with having a vehicle with defective brakes, charges the railroad with negligence in furnishing him such a vehicle.

Indict Demaree

A Madison County grand jury has indicted Steven Michael Demaree, 16, of 2410 W. 20th St., on a felony charge of theft.

It is alleged Demaree exerted unauthorized control April 27 over a television belonging to St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Bond was set at $5,000.

Golf Cougars may be good enough to take U. S. title

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will send a five-man team to next week's NCAA Division II Golf Championship at Fort Campbell, Ky.

SIUE will be making its sixth appearance in the last eight years in the NCAA tournament. To be eligible for the tourney, a school must be invited by the NCAA.

Each year, a selection committee in each NCAA region picks the region's top three or four schools. This year, 30 of the nation's top Division II golf schools have been invited.

The 72-hole tournament begins Tuesday, June 10. Eighteen holes of golf will be played each day through Friday, June 13, with each school counting its lowest four scores for each round.

Representing SIUE will be senior Rusty Pierce and sophomore Brooks Brestal of Belleville; seniors Marc Vanderbeke of Moline and Dave Riffey of Springfield; and junior Keith Swindell of Macoules.

During the season, Swindell averaged 77.8, Riffey 79.1, Vanderbeke 79.3, Brestal 78.9 and Pierce 78.8. The players were selected by shooting the five best scores in several rounds of golf among a total of eight SIUE players.

In dual matches, the Cougars had a 6-2 record and won their last three tournaments of the season: the six-team St. Louis Area Collegiate Athletic Association tournament, the eight-team Cougar Invitational and the 26-team Michigan State Invitational.

"This is the best team we've ever had. I'm confident we can finish in the top 10 and possibly make a strong run for the national championship," said SIUE Coach Harry Gallatin.

In 1974's Division II Tournament, SIUE finished 21st in a 31-team field.

Honor Trojan athletes

LeRoy Booker was honored for combining athletic and academic ability at Madison High School's year-end awards assembly.

Booker lettered three years in basketball, two years in football and one year in track. The Babe Ruth Sportsmanship award to a male and female senior who have done much to promote good sportsmanship went to Mike Williams and Romanita King. Williams was a four-year track letterman and team captain. He also lettered two years in both basketball and football.

Sports letters were given in football, cross country, basketball, tennis, track and baseball for men and track for women.

Football lettermen are captains Kevin Ditch and Joe Young, each four-year lettermen. Joe Brock, Darryl Franklin, Emmett Timmons, and Kevin Werner, three-year lettermen.

LeRoy Booker, Mark Jiles.

Wendell McCaskill, Mike Stanley, Robert Stern, Harold Williams and Mike Williams and Mike Woods, two-year lettermen.

Duane Roachman, Craig Brown, Dwight Chiles, Alfred Crawford, Brian Eves, Pete Feurka, Juan Gardner, Darryl Haynes, Chris Horton, Steve McCunney, John Palchiff, Oscar Rogers, Harold Sullivan, Harold Terrell, Jeff Thompson and Warren Waggoner, first-year lettermen. Cross-country lettermen are Rudolph Bradley, three years; Ron Jones, two years; Mike Terrell, Joe Gulaah, Nathaniel Pryor and Don King, one year.

Basketball lettermen are Rudolph Bradley, and LeRoy Booker, three years; Mike Williams, Emmett Timmons, Darryl Franklin, Ron Jones, Curtis Bradley, Joe Gulaah and Mike Stanley, two years.

Tennis lettermen are Jerry Verbeke, William Garrett, Patrick Winston and Mike Woods, two years; Charles Coover, one year.

Special recognition was given to Robin Duko for being the first woman to participate in varsity tennis. She played in four matches.

Track lettermen are Co-Captains Lamont Garrett, Michael Williams and Joe Young, four years; Derek Maple, three years; Alfred Crawford, Tom Harris, Michael Terrell and Rodney Williams, two years.

Relay Newsome, Leonard Proffey, Calvin Rogers, Warren Waggoner, Von Dee Walker, Robert Deloach, Anthony London, Charles Caldwell, LeRoy Booker.

Robert Boorer, Curtis Bradley, Stanley Brooks, Tyrone Burt, Derrick Gregory, Daryl Hampton, Hubert Ivy, Mark Jiles, Ronnie Lovett and Dewey Mays, one year.

Women lettering in track are Iris Butler, Linda Campbell, Aligne Carter, Robin Duko, Christine Franklin, Stephanie Garrett, Alexis Jones, Anita Rogers, Patricia Sardigal, Chris Salas and Karen Williams.

Basketball lettermen are Kevin Werner, three years; Cedric Wilson, Harold Williams, Emmett Timmons and Steve McCunney, two years.

Duane Roachman, Tom Jones, Pete Feurka, Dan Hancock, Gulaah, Darryl Franklin and Randy Thompson, one year.

Taylor and other Cougars honored

Mike Taylor, three-time college all-American as a member of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling team, was named the Cougars' "most outstanding athlete" at SIUE's annual sports award banquet Monday night at the school.

Named at the dinner, also were the school's most sports players in SIUE's eight varsity sports.

Taylor, a graduate of St. Louis' Vashon High School, was the Cougars' wrestling team captain the past two seasons. During those two campaigns he amassed a combined record of 66 to 10 with 29 falls, mostly at 150 pounds.

In the process of building his own record, Taylor helped SIUE finish third in the NCAA Division II tournament in 1973 '74 and second this year (1974 '75).

Chosen as the MVP in cross-country was junior Marty Smith of Barnhart, Mo. SIUE's No. 1 barrier, he won the first place trophy in the St. Louis Area Collegiate Athletic Association (SIACAA) championship. In addition, he set a school record in the spring in the sheepchase and qualified for the NCAA Division II postseason championship event.

In basketball, senior Keith McFarland was the MVP pick. The Troy native, although playing on the Cougar cage team only two seasons, managed to set a school career scoring record of 1,116 points and a one-game scoring record of 44 points. He paced the Cougar cagers to a 33-14 two season record as SIUE finished last year with a 18-8 mark for Coach Jim Dudley's charges.

Senior Rusty Pierce of Belleville was the MVP in golf. A four-year member of the SIUE golf team, Pierce was second on the team this year with a 26.6 average and also won medalist honors in this season's SLACAA golf championship tournament.

Named as most valuable tennis player was junior Bob Nunez of Rockaway, N.J. In his first year at SIUE, Nunez posted a 21-7 singles record and in doubles had a combined 20-7 mark. He helped the Cougars run up a 12-8 record in Coach Kent DeMars' and the school's second season of intercollegiate tennis.

Another New Jersey native, sophomore Allen Murray, was selected as track MVP. Murray ran in the 440-yard dash and was a member of the mile relay team which set a school record of 3:22.3 in that event.

Selected as baseball MVP was senior Nick Baltz of Valmeyer. A right-handed pitcher, Baltz led Coach Ray Lee's pitching staff with a 7-2 record and an ERA of 1.27. His ERA set a new school record.

Chosen as MVP in soccer was St. Louisian Steve Elliott, a senior defensive star. Elliott, a cool as ice performer under pressure, sparked the Cougar kickers to four straight winning seasons and saw action on SIUE's only national championship team, the 1972 NCAA College Division winners.

3 Legion league baseball contests here this weekend

Quad-City area American Legion baseball squads will open their 22nd District 22 home season this weekend.

Glen Carbon Post 435 will host Alton Post 126 at 6 p.m. Saturday at Wilson Park, the second meeting of the two thus far this season. Alton nipped the Glen Carbon Stealers 4-3 last weekend in the rain-shortened Carlyle tournament.

The Post 435 Stealers are 1-1 in non-league competition, having defeated Gillespie on May 25. GCHS North's Bill Anderson will start on the mound for 435.

On Sunday at 5:30 p.m., Tri-City Post 113 hosts the same Alton club at Wilson Park. Post 113, managed by GCHS South baseball mentor Conrad Champion, has a 1-0 non-league record, having defeated Missouri Legion Post 335 last week, 5-3.

Scheduled to start for Post 113 is Paul Evans, a 6-1, 185-pound sophomore from South, who yesterday led the Granite City Braves to a 1-0 shutout over Collinsville with a no-hitter.

Venice-Madison Post 307, with a 1-0 record in both non-league and legion competition, plays host to Cahokia at 2 p.m. Sunday at Lee Park, Venice.

Post 307 lost 14-3 to Collinsville last week in a non-league game, and on Tuesday bowed 11-1 to Alton Post 126 in a 22nd District league game.

Alton bunter Robert Schmidt held Venice-Madison to one hit, a single by Pitcher Kevin Worne in the fourth inning which provided Post 307's lone run.

Alton picked up three runs in the first inning and eight more in the fifth. The game was called after five innings because of a 10-run lead rule.

No-hitter by Evans; Braves win 2 games

Cleek clicks in '75 season-opening cycle competition

By KEN THOMPSON

Press-Record Staff Writer

Ask Oklahoma's Randy Cleek to explain how to win a motorcycle race and he'll answer, "There is no real explanation, but I'll try to show you."

Cleek, ranked last year as the nation's top short-track cycle racer and the defending Tri-City Speedway titleholder, did just that Tuesday evening on the quarter-mile dirt oval of the local speedway.

He captured every event he entered during the season-opening American Motorcycle Association racing program.

Fresh from a major event victory at Eldridge, Md., on Memorial Day, Cleek topped a field of 73 riders from across the nation here Tuesday in capturing his heat race, semifinals event, trophy dash and feature race.

Two other riders promised to give Cleek his closest competition in the feature race—Guy McClure of Fort Worth, Tex., and Rick Hocking of Freemont, Calif.

McClure, who yielded the track title here last year to Cleek in the last race of the 1974 season, was the evening's fastest qualifier during time trials with a one-lap tour of 15.13 seconds. He then won his heat race and semifinals event.

Hocking, a former national short-track champion and super-speedway competitor, also won his heat race and semifinals event, the top three finishers of three semifinals races—and the fourth-place rider in a semifinals run in the fastest time of the three—earn the right to compete in the feature event.

Hocking's hopes of upsetting Cleek, winner last month of the annual "Spring Classic" here, were lost on the first lap of the ten-lap main event when his motorcycle broke down on the back straightaway.

Cleek wrestled the lead on the second lap from Texan Larry Cooper and won the event in a runaway finish.

McClure placed second, Doug Allen of Belleville third, Dan Kirkland of Midstad fourth and Cooper fifth.

Other event winners were: Phil McDonald first heat, Ahn second heat, Kirkland third heat, Jimmie Lee fifth heat, Cooper seventh heat, Granite City's Glen Farley eighth heat, Joe Powell ninth heat and Gary Wilson, the consolation race.

Presently third in Midwest Region point standings behind second-place rider Jay Springsteen and leader Steve Drostie, both of Michigan, Cleek will attempt his second sweep to victory next Tuesday at Tri-City Speedway. Time trials will start at 7:30 p.m.

Mercer in home twinbill against Panama ball team

Mercer Mortuary of the Illinois Inter-City Baseball League, will have an opportunity to possibly move into fourth place in league standings this Sunday if the local squad can sweep a doubleheader over Panama at Wilson Park, Panama, at 1 p.m.

Mercer and Panama were to meet in a scheduled single contest, but managers of both squads decided to make it a doubleheader instead to make up a May 4 rainout.

Single game contests this Sunday pit Highland-Pierion against the Vans at East Alton, and Fairfax at Troy.

League standings going into Sunday's contests are: Troy, 9-1; Fairfax, 5-4; Highland-Pierion, 5-4; Vans, 4-4; Mercer, 2-4 and Panama, 1-5.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

The Army

protection would be required consists of approximately 900 acres of land on which 141 buildings and structures are located, with about three million square feet of floor space in these buildings.

In addition, Col. Bush said, the Granite City sewage treatment plant and the Chain of Rocks locks would require protection.

If a plan eventually is worked out and approved, Chief Parents said, the city would have to construct an additional bay at the West Granite City Fire Station to house an additional pumper. One pumper and another smaller truck now are housed at that station, he said.

The Granite City Army Installation fire department now consists of 13 persons, including the fire chief, and uses two 750-gallon pumpers and one pickup truck with a water gun.

Parents said discussion of the proposal began early this year at which time he was told that the Department of the Army would retain the right to make all inspections and tests of installed fire protection systems (such as the sprinkler system).

Administrative work and the fire prevention program also would be continued by the Army.

In his letter to Parents, Col. Bush said:

"Under Department of Army guidelines, the existing firefighting capability (at the installation) has been determined to be the minimum protection permissible for an installation of this type. If fire protection services are secured from the city, the protection must equal or exceed the existing capability.

In terms of equipment, the Department of Army requires that a single fire company must have at least two fire trucks, one of which is held in reserve for maintenance and repair work."

Col. Bush's letter said further that "the local installation commander does not have the authority to enter into a contractual arrangement with a city for fire protection without Department of Army approval."

No such approval has been secured to date, therefore, the estimates your furnish will not be considered as a formal city changeover.

Lisa Groothuis, valedictorian, has chosen "Our Hope For the Future" as her topic.

Commencement exercises for 351 graduating seniors at Granite City High School South will take place at 8 p.m. Saturday on the Athletic Field, with Miss Jennifer Powderly singing the "Star Spangled Banner" to open the program.

Chaplain (Major) Charles Harding, USCOM II, S. Army, will give the invocation and the Rev. Dr. Samuel Boda, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, will deliver the benediction.

Miss Anne DeLuks, valedictorian, will speak on "The Search For Meaning" and Miss Winifred Freeman, salutatorian, has selected "Achieve A Goal" for her presentation.

James Dumont, principal, will present the class to Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis who in turn is to present the graduates to George Moore Sr., president of the Board of Education, who will award the diplomas.

proposal for furnishing this service, but will be used merely for planning purposes.

"It is realized that if the Department of Army approval were secured for this service, and actual negotiations between the City Council and the Army would take place, the estimates furnished by you would be subject to change."

Information requested by the Army includes estimates on the annual labor cost of ten firefighters plus fringe benefits, depreciation costs on city equipment, supply costs and administrative costs. Estimates of non-recurring costs are needed on the purchase of new city equipment, modifications of city buildings and other one-time expenses in effecting the changeover.

June was graduation month for Illinois colleges and high schools in 1875, just as it is a hundred years later. But the timing is about where the similarity ends, according to century-old files in the Illinois State Historical Library.

Although the commencement exercises were the most notable statewide events, newspapers did give considerable space to preparations for upcoming Fourth of July festivities, and to telegraph reports from "the centennial celebration of the memorable battle of Bunker Hill."

Illinois had many fewer schools and colleges a century ago than this year, and the size of the average graduating class was only a small fraction of what it is today.

But the most significant difference seemed to be in male-female ratios. Only a few women were in the college graduating classes, while at the high school level girls far outnumbered the boys.
Many of the newspaper reports failed to list the number of graduates, but here is a sampling: Springfield High School, 15 girls, three boys; Rock Island High School, eight girls, three boys; Chillicothe High School, nine girls, two boys; Peoria High School, seven girls, three boys; Illinois Wesleyan University, Elmhurst, 14 men, two ladies; Rock River Seminary, Mt. Morris, six men, three women; Monmouth College, 20 men, 14 ladies.

Illinois College, Jacksonville, had a graduating class of only four and the Rock Island Daily Union commented that "of the forty classes which have graduated from the college, only six have been as small as this."

Shimer (junior) College, Mt. Carroll, graduated eleven girls and Chicago's Union College of Law had an all-male class of 23.
The Chicago Inter-Ocean, however, gave a detailed coverage of commencement activities at Northwestern University. The graduating class consisted of 26 men and three ladies; in their freshman class, there had been 39 men and nine ladies.

Here is a few of the statistics the paper published about the class: seven were born in Illinois, and one each in Ireland and England; nine planned to enter the ministry and five to become lawyers.
The oldest was 32 and the youngest 18; and the average height of the class was 5 feet, 9 inches.

Class day ceremonies which preceded the commencement included transferring the university lifeline to the junior class and, "after taking a farewell smoke from the pipe of peace, the class concluded the exercises by singing the class hymn."
A major part of the commencement ceremonies in both colleges and high schools was the reading of an essay by each graduate.

At Northwestern, the number was reduced to the best ten. And, for the first time, a girl was among this select group.
For the first time also, a woman was the valedictorian at McKendree College, Lebanon. Educator and reformer Frances Willard was the speaker at Chicago's Park Institute, an all-girl school.

She told the graduates "that they were capable of great things, and urged them not to be discouraged by the ridicule of the sterner sex from undertakings which might be regarded by the world as unadvisable."
As long as a hundred years ago, the Illinois State Journal was saying that plans were being made for "holding an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration in Springfield," and every few days there would be progress reports.

The centennial of the Battle of Bunker Hill was celebrated in Boston on June 17 with 30,000 in the parade, which took "about four hours in passing."

Rites held for accident victim
Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the First Church of the Nazarene for Darrell McCullough, 21, of 2672 Kiron Ave., who died Sunday of injuries suffered in a traffic accident.

Mr. McCullough was struck by an auto on Highway 162 in front of the Granite City Steel blast furnace plant on May 22. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital here and then transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he died.

Burial was in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Two charged with arson

Frank Bruzaitis, 20, of 4028 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, and Steven L. Bruzaitis, 19, of 2022 Rhodes St., Madison, were arrested Monday and were charged with arson.

Police allege the two brothers set fire to the home of Linda Myrick, 3002 Namecki Road, May 22. All of her furniture had been removed from the home before the fire. Detectives investigating the case said they have recovered the furniture and an investigation is continuing.

The Bruzaitis brothers were taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville and their bond was set at $25,000 each.

LOOT TRUCK IN MITCHELL. Citizens' band radio and other electrical equipment, worth a total of $704, were stolen from the auto of Howard Powell, 160 Douglas St., Mitchell, parked at his home, it was reported last week.

Fund training for Madison area community organizers

A $119,605 Title I program aimed at training potential community organizers to work in low-income areas was approved Tuesday by the Illinois Board of Higher Education for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The IBHE meeting was held at Governors State University, Park Forest South.

The SIUE project was one of seven community service programs approved by the IBHE for Illinois institutions of higher education. The projects were selected from proposals made by 39 institutions seeking Title I funds. The Title I act provides for two-thirds federal participation, and one-third state matching funds. The SIUE project will train community organizers to work in Madison, Forrest Homes and East St. Louis. According to the published guidelines, "The program will focus on developing and sharing information, developing skills in budgeting, marketing and decision-making, and financial planning for the family."

In other action Tuesday, the IBHE approved two non-instructional capital improvement projects on the SIUE campus. The board authorized $17,500 for construction of women's athletic fields and $4,000 for additions to the embankment at Tower Lake.

The IBHE also announced official approval of redesignation of the SIUE School of Fine Arts and Communications and creation of departments of speech communications, speech pathology and audiology, and theater and dance. The School of Fine Arts and Communications formerly was designated the School of Fine Arts. The School has IBHE-approved programs in speech communication, mass communication, and speech pathology and audiology, which are communication oriented. Officials said the redesignation will more accurately recognize these areas in the school's title.

The existing department of speech and theater was reorganized to create the new departments. University officials said the three areas have been functioning as diverse units with directors for nearly four years.

IBHE action formalized approvals of four other matters pertaining to SIUE: purchase of eight trucks and two dump-trailer trucks for the physical plant department, $36,100; purchase of a helical dropout compensator video amplifier and a 16-mm video film chain processor for the School of Dental Medicine, $7,380; purchase of a microscope with accessories for the School of Dental Medicine, $5,800; and remodeling of four buildings at the School of Dental Medicine, $240,000.

Brown infant succumbs at home

Marsha Evette Brown, 49-day-old infant daughter of Mrs. Viva Brown, 600 Washington Ave., Venice, was pronounced dead at home at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday by William Sternberg, Madison County deputy coroner.

Mrs. Brown said she put the baby to bed at 10:30 p.m. Monday and could not wake the child in the morning. She said the infant had a slight cold. There will be an inquest to determine the cause of death. Funeral arrangements are pending at an East St. Louis funeral home.

DREDGING AT BOY SCOUT CAMP SUNNEN.
The southeast portion of Sunnen Lake is in the process of being dredged by Sunnen employees. This will greatly reduce the weed problem and improve the boating and swimming area used by the local Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council which operates Camp Sunnen near Postot, Mo., and use the 450 acre lake. The summer camping season is scheduled to open June 15.

Camp Sunnen to begin 22nd year of operation June 15

With school classes ending and summer here, it is Boy Scout camping time again. Camp Sunnen, located near Postot, Mo., will open for its 22nd summer camping season Sunday, June 15.

The camp is owned and operated by the Cahokia Mound Scout Council with offices in Granite City, serving youth from the southern half of Madison and Bond Counties.

Camping by scouts at Sunnen goes on all year, but during the summer a seven-week organized program is held.

Last summer, 756 scouts spent a week at camp.

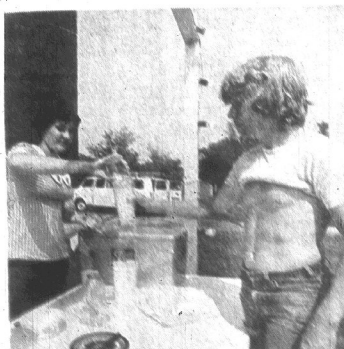

Scouts go to Sunnen under the leadership of their own Scoutmaster and camp with members of their own troop.

During the summer months a central camp staff furnishes instruction in skill areas that the scout would be unable to receive at regular troop meetings.

Robert Hagan, district scout executive of Collinsville, will serve as camp director.

Staff members from Granite City and their respective camp assignments are: Randy Atfelter, assistant aquatics director; John Busch and Johnny Sankle, aquatic staff; Mike DeRantz, field sports director; Bruce Gordon, field sports aide; Gary Busby, colorcraft aide; Dale Johnson, commissary and Pat Potter, commissary aide.

GC man beaten, money missing

Leroy Morris, 1212 Cleveland Blvd., told police he was injured Tuesday night between 11 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. by a man who broke into his home and beat and kicked him.

Morris said he could not recall details of the beating, but said he was knocked unconscious and awoke in St. Elizabeth Hospital where he had been admitted. He suffered a cut to his left cheek.

His wife said his wallet was found empty in the bathroom of their home and she said her purse was missing. The purse contained about $20 cash, $20 in food stamps, personal papers and a wallet belonging to Malcolm Batshay, Millard, which contained about $100 and a signed $151 tax rebate check, police were told.

Another man was said to have broken down the door to the home and found Morris unconscious. The man was said to have called for an ambulance.

Record volume of tax returns in local district; screened by people, machines

Ira S. Loeb, Internal Revenue Service district director, said this week that a record 1,138,364 individual returns were filed by Springfield District taxpayers this year.

Some of these returns contained errors, Loeb said, but "while these errors delayed processing of the tax forms, they did not lead to a full audit." According to the IRS official, basic mistakes such as an incorrect Social Security number or missing signatures or W-2 forms merely delayed processing of the returns while the IRS obtained the correct information.

Other items, such as failure to take into account the final exclusion on casualty losses, also were handled without an extensive audit as part of what the IRS calls its "unallowable items program."

Under this program, the 10 IRS Service Centers identify deductions clearly forbidden by law—for example, fractional exemptions or duplicate deductions.

Taxpayers claiming unallowable deductions are contacted by the Kansas City Service Center and the necessary adjustments are made, Loeb said. Most taxpayers agree with the adjustment but there is an appeals procedure for those who don't, he added.

After a return has been corrected for obvious or unallowable errors, it may require further examination. "Again this year, we are relying on both man and machine to decide which returns are going to be audited," Loeb said.

Describing the audit selection procedure, Loeb said that all individual income tax returns go through a sophisticated computer processing system called the "Discriminant Function," or DIF.

This system assigns numeric weights to return characteristics and identifies those returns with a high probability of error.

Returns with a high DIF score, Loeb continued, are channeled to groups of experienced IRS examiners, called screeners, who look them over to combine computer scoring with human judgment in arriving at a decision to audit.

"Such a system," Loeb said, "combines the best capabilities of man and machine and ensures the maximum degree of fairness to the taxpayer and the government."

Press freedom closely linked to individual freedom—Czech refugee

The struggle for press freedom should not be limited to the government versus the press, the public should also guard that freedom, Kamil Winter, associate professor of mass communications at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, said Tuesday.

Dr. Winter spoke at the Rotary Club's noon luncheon at the YMCA.

Press freedom is not just for the press, the speaker said, because there aren't many of them. But freedom of expression safeguards individual freedoms, he stressed.

Dr. Winter recognizes the importance of individuals supporting the press, because as a television newscaster in Czechoslovakia during the August 1968 Russian occupation, he and other television journalists relied on volunteers for the off-camera, behind-the-scenes work.

When the Russians tried to stop the journalists from broadcasting, they moved to different stations until the Russians found the occupied all of Prague's television stations.

Then the journalists broadcast by radio from makeshift studios in cellars and basements, the local club was told.

The broadcasts continued around the clock, and the journalists were fed and their clothes were cleaned by Czech citizens who wanted the broadcasts to continue.

Dr. Winter said the journalists stopped the secret broadcasts when the Czech government formally said it accepted the Russian occupation. He later fled and has been at SUIS since 1969.

Before that occupation, he was the director of television news at Prague University, also for three years. He taught international relations.

Dr. Winter noted that he has lived under Nazism, Communism and democracy.

He stressed that restrictions on a free press are not synonymous with censorship. Communist governments limit free expression through government ownership of typesetting machines, printing presses and newsprint, he said.

Only public corporations could apply for a permit to publish a newspaper in Czechoslovakia when Communists ruled the country from 1948 to January of 1968. If newspaper applicants were granted the equipment they needed, they still had to rely on the government to distribute the paper at a time when it would be accessible to the people.

As is this week's enough to limit and control the news, the government also had censors at all publishing plants and broadcasting stations. All news had to be approved by the censors before it was available to the public, he related.

Winter said an example of the effectiveness of government distribution of newspaper to individual publishers was shown in 1968 when Czechoslovakia experimented with complete press freedom between January and August, the month the Russian occupation began.

He said a literary magazine's circulation grew in two weeks from 35,000 each week to about 200,000 a week.

The increased circulation was because the publishers could get all the newsprint they needed to meet the public's demands, he noted.

Dr. Winter said Communists realize the public's thirst for news and the effects that uncontrolled information could have on people they are trying to keep from demanding freedom.

He said the policies of détente will, therefore, never cause the New York Times to be sold in Moscow, despite other apparent "concessions" by the Red rules.

Most Americans don't realize they live in an "island" of free expression, Dr. Winter said, it remains alive in a dwindling number of countries.

Americans also don't use all the information available to them, he said.

For this reason, Dr. Winter said, he believes the press should make the public aware that press freedom is closely related to individual freedom.

And for a free press to be an effective governmental watchdog, Dr. Winter said people have to read and understand what is published.

Rotary Club luncheon was presided over by President Walter Milton, who announced that the Rotary District 646 assembly will be held at 8:30 a.m. Friday, June 20, at Lincoln Land College in Springfield.

First medical graduates

The former dean of Johns Hopkins University Medical School will deliver the address Sunday when the first graduating class of Southern Illinois University's School of Medicine receives degrees in 4 p.m. ceremonies in the State Capitol Building rotunda at Springfield.

Dr. David Elliott Rogers, now president of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, was chosen by the 24 graduates to be commencement speaker. His topic will be "Medicine and the Social Contract."

The two dozen graduates represent an advanced standing class admitted to the SIU School of Medicine in October 1973. They came to SIU mostly from two-year medical schools in the Dakotas and Nevada.

Another 43 students who were admitted to the SIU School of Medicine in June 1973 as the school's "charter class" will be graduated next year.

Cyclist injured

Billy Rollins, 25, of 2005 Nameoki Drive, was injured when his motorcycle was forced from the road by a car at the curves a half-mile east of Cemetery Road on the Mitchell-Poag Road at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Rollins said a late model green Ford forced him from the pavement and he lost control of the motorcycle. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for abrasions to his left knee and was released.

Still another 60 first-year students are in basic science classes at Carbondale, bringing total current Medical School enrollment to 127 for the 1974-75 year.

The first class will be graduated 10 years after the Illinois legislature approved a bill urging creation of a new medical school in the state.

Selection of SIU as the site of Illinois' second public medical school came after an Illinois Board of Higher Education commission recommended it in a wide-ranging 1968 report. The university's board of trustees approved the new school the following year.

James Campbell, chairman of the commission whose health education proposals led to the school's founding, will be a member of the processional vanguard at Sunday's ceremonies.

Others in the group will be SIU's Carbondale President Warren W. Brandt, Ivan Elliott Jr., chairman of the board of trustees; Dean Richard Moy, dean of the School of Medicine; Dr. Martin Van Brown, a member of the SIU board at the time the medical school was created; and Gerald Riedman, president of the Sangamon County Medical Society.

Dr. Rogers, Johns Hopkins medical school dean from 1968 to 1971, has been a visiting professor and lecturer at universities throughout the U.S.

The graduates will celebrate their professional coming-of-age at a Saturday night class party in Springfield. A reception for graduates, relatives and guests is scheduled after the commencement ceremonies Sunday.

Some joint gym classes here already

New regulations by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare requiring annually integrated physical education classes draw mixed reaction from Quad-City area parents and school officials.

Male and female students in Granite City high schools already must meet to participate in non-contact educational sports, and school officials say they believe an extension of this will create no difficulty.

The new rules also require that "physical education classes and activities which are separate (contact sports) are to be comparable for members of each sex."

For the past three years, girls in Granite City high schools have been competing among themselves and against other schools in 12 sports. Next year, the girls at both schools may participate overall in 60 scheduled games and meets in basketball, bowling, hockey, tennis, track and volleyball.

HEW regulations adopted, subject to revision in mid-summer, require that female students have comparable opportunities with males to participate in sports.

Granite City School Supt. Bobby J. Davin said Wednesday that if HEW's rules become final, the district would probably use much of an allowed three-year grace period before fully implementing the changes. He said the program would be carefully studied throughout the district.

Venice Supt. Robert Vickers said, "The combination doesn't bother me. It might be good for the students and the district's recreation programs."

Supt. Vickers said Venice schools offer no extracurricular activities for girls, so the regulations would provide new opportunities for them.

But implementing the rules could cause space and scheduling problems, Supt. Vickers added. In Granite City schools, boys and girls already have co-educational classes in bowling and ice skating in the fall and golf in the summer. Girls' team in volleyball, tennis and bowling have competed in state contests.

By the 1976-77 school year, the Illinois High School Association plans to have 12 state tournaments for girls and 11 for boys.

Last month, the IHSA's board of directors passed a resolution saying that participation in all IHSA-sponsored state athletic meets and tournaments will be limited to the sex for which the event was designed. This could conflict with the proposed federal regulations, officials believe.

School authorities are waiting for more specific federal guidelines to follow.

Mrs. Frank Cowley, 2805 Sunset Drive, reached in a random call, said she thinks physical education classes should be separate because combined classes "could cause inappropriate behavior." She has two children in St. Margaret Mary School.

Mrs. Donald Cook, 2021 Illinois Ave., wonders whether "the students would keep their minds on the sports. They'd be looking at each other all the time."

Another mother with a freshman son at Granite City High School said she believes sexual integration in gymnasium classes would be fine up until high school. Young boys and girls in physical education feel different, she said. "But past a certain age, their physical differences and limitations make separate classes necessary."

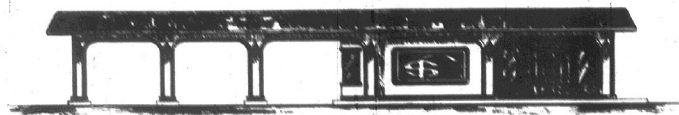

Another Granite City woman, who has a son at GCIS South and a daughter at Prather Junior High School, would prefer boys' and girls' classes. Putting them in the same PE class would result, she is convinced in obvious protest.

Mrs. Kenneth Britz, 2405 Delmar Ave., sees nothing wrong with intermingling boys and girls in physical education classes. She has three children at Nedringhaus Grade School. Gene Daley, 417 Madison Ave., thinks combining boys' and girls' classes would be all right, but Mrs. Louis Ratliff, 505 Mercedia, St. Louis, favors present policies. She added, "It really depends on whether the children want the classes."

Alex Markaby, 817 Madison Ave., said combined classes could cause all kinds of problems. "I'm positive it wouldn't work," he concluded.

Fraternal week begins Sunday

Mayor Paul Schuler has proclaimed June 8 to 14 as Fraternal Week in Granite City, honoring the fraternal benefit societies of America and their more than 11 million members. The proclamation invites the people of Granite City to lend their support to the patriotic, charitable, and beneficent purposes of fraternal benefit societies by attending the fraternal functions open to the public during Fraternal Week. National Flag Day, June 14, which concludes Fraternal Week, is a day when fraternal benefit societies throughout the nation encourage their members to display the "American Flag" and plan special observances. The theme of Fraternal week is "Fraternalism Makes a Difference."

Party fetes Mollie VanBuskirk

Miss Mollie VanBuskirk, a July bride-elect, was complemented at a bridal shower this week at the Koinonia Center given by her aunts, Mrs. Ella Mae Gabriel and Mrs. Lou Kahler. Decorations were carried out in pastel colors. Floral centerpieces and tall tapers were used on the main table and white wedding bells centered the guests' tables. Assisting the honoree in opening her gifts were Nancy Prusak and Nedra Sanders. Both will serve as bridesmaids.

400 attend TOPS recognition day

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hackney, 2817 Lincoln Ave., attended the annual Area Recognition Day in Quincy, Ill. of the Take Out Pounds Sensibly (TOPS) Club, Inc. Attending the event were 400 members and guests representing 80 chapters in 11 counties, who had recorded a total weight loss of 12,800 pounds in 1974. Mrs. Hackney, who is TOPS Area Captain, announced the grand champion honorees went to the Bethalto TOPS Club 1235. Alton Club received first place award and the Granite City Club received third place. Entertainment was provided by the Swing Choir of Quincy High School. More information about TOPS may be obtained by writing to: TOPS Club, Inc., 4575 South 5th St., Milwaukee, Wis., or to Mrs. Hackney.

Costs between $7.50 and $13.50, depending on the dealer. Most sports card dealers are in California or New York, but Takmajian said there is a dealer in Michigan who has between seven million and eight million cards. The hobby of sports card collecting is growing so rapidly that dealers are finding buyers across the country for their cards. Takmajian said one man in Ohio placed $800 worth of ads in newspapers and magazines and sold cards valued at a total of $1,000. He said the cards are valued much as coins are. The older they are, or the fewer that are in circulation, the more they are worth. Takmajian estimates his collection is worth about $1,500, or an average of 10 cents a card.

WINNING ENTRY in competition to devise a symbol for Quad-City area community pride.

Symbol of area pride

"Quad-City pride" is emphasized in the winning entry in competition to create a visual symbol for the community pride that motivates local residents. C. A. "Jack" Demers, president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, Edward F. Reiske, Chamber executive vice president, and Norman Hall, chairman of the group's Community Pride Committee, have announced Chuck Schuler as recipient of first place in the judging.

Linda Lee was second, Dave Hatcher third, Steve Dionea fourth and Jim Belling, fifth. Competition was spirited and the selection of a winner proved difficult, Hall said. High school and junior high school students participated. The symbol is to be utilized by the communities in promoting activities related to pride in this area, it was explained. Judges were Mayors Paul Schuler, Mike Sasyk and William M. Ebersold, plus art consultants from local school systems—Eugene Alissi, Paula Domino and Linda Knipping. A variety of "pride activities" is being planned.

GC Invention (Continued from Page 1) stationary shed, once proposed for Granite City Steel's coke ovens or a traveling hood arrangement of Japanese design would require about 400 horsepower to operate where the gas-cleaning equipment with the one-spot coke receiver operates with a 500 H.P. motor. In addition, the new control system will not increase the coke oven worker's exposure to smoke as has been the experience with coke side sheds. Granite City Steel, a division of International Steel Corp. and the largest steel plant in the St. Louis area, has conducted several developmental projects in an effort to provide satisfactory controls for coke pushing.

lake. What about the false political maneuverings that have us in this condition? "In citing the Third Addition to New Haven Harbor, a subdivision in Section 4-9, the surveyor states as follows: 'No part of subdivision as shown lies within 500 feet of any railroad, canal or water course serving a tributary area of 640 acres or more.' Some lands now extend out into the present Slough. What type of people could sit on building committees and allow such an unjust building permits to be issued?"

"Slough drainage has been closed off. Present blocks are as follows: a. 'Farmer east of Alton and Southern Railroad has blocked the course with two dirt fill dams. b. 'Alton and Southern railroad has a 20-inch pipe for the water to drain through. c. 'Farm road west of Alton and Southern railroad tracks has a 12-inch line drain channeled down to 8 inches on east end. d. 'Drainage along route is blocked by trees, brush, vegetation, rubbish, cement blocks, stones, refrigerators, hot water heaters and just plain junk. e. 'Last year a pumping station was installed, west of the Alton and Southern railroad tracks for a cost of $145,000. 'The pump is a diesel engine, and is either broken down, or just plain cut-off, for a week or two at a time when the rain is at its greatest fall. 'Furthermore, the pump will not take care of the quantity of water even if the area was ditched to flow the water to the pump. 'The topography altitude drop is only about four feet for approximately one mile distance of the slough. 'Recommendations: 1. 'Presently the home owners are being advised to fill in the basements with a certain type sand that will not cause foul odors in the home. This requires extra areas for heating, cooling electrical units and storage area. 2. 'Presently, Nameoki Township is pushing the installation of a sewage system to hook on to the Granite City sewage system. The Granite City sewage system is being floated out of the ground by the high water table. Our water table is higher than Granite City's. 'How can we have a sewage system installed before the water table lowered? We need a sewage system and that would possibly help relieve our water table, although we don't want to jump into something that just creates a further problem in later years. 3. 'Mrs. Helen Hawkins has a file of clippings from the Press-Record stating that stormwater is not going to be allowed in their sewage system. So, how is a sewage system going to relieve our surface floodwater and critical water table condition? We must proceed with remedial actions in the order in which nature has established. 4. 'There is a group connected with the East Side Levee and Sanitation District that is considering the possibility of digging a 30-foot-deep lake west of the Alton and Southern Railroad, and using the removed earth to fill in low areas and bank a common ditch through Dobrey Slough to prevent stagnation, standing water. 'The lake could be stocked with fish and offer good recreation and food for the area; plus, the fish would control the mosquito reproduction by eating the larvae. 'This would not get rid of our high water table, but if we are going to have to live with it, we might just as well look for ways to enjoy and benefit from it. 'Also, in accordance with 1905 topographic maps and reports from old timers, we are living over what was a very shallow lake and hunting lake. 'The 1905 map shows the Slough lake to have been approximately 1/4 mile in a circled area, beginning in the vicinity of Maryville Grade School and continuing along a northerly line of Maryville Road, across Highway 203, and the Penn Central, C&E and N&W railroad tracks. 'The Slough lake headed southeastwardly at about 500 feet width, for approximately 1/4 mile, and then gradually to approximately 1,000 feet just about 200 yards west of the present Alton and Southern Railway. 'At this point, the altitude was 413 feet, about 11 feet lower than the larger lake area, north at Maryville Road and Highway 203. 'Suggested solutions: 'During the past few years there have been many suggested remedies for our problem, though none of them have worked. Everything good seems to get stopped. 'At one time they were planning to ditch the Slough and then from the lower end have a gravity feed pipe line to drain into Horseshoe Lake. 'In view of our high water table and our natural basin situation, we believe our only alternative is to fill out basements with sand. 'This would place a great financial burden on all of the concerned home owners. 'We believe that this should be declared a disaster area, and receive state and federal aid to cover the cost of filling the basements and building the equivalent area for storage and utilities. Any help, suggestions or considerations will be appreciated.'

"We want corrective actions and not political maneuvering to hide and increase our problem in later years. 3. 'Mrs. Helen Hawkins has a file of clippings from the Press-Record stating that stormwater is not going to be allowed in their sewage system. So, how is

Amvets 51, Auxiliary elect man-wife team

For the first time, Quad-City Amvets Post 51 and Auxiliary elected a husband and wife team as the top executive officers to lead the units in 1975-76.

At separate business sessions last week at Post 51 clubhouse, 5100 Lakeview Drive, Mrs. Jackie Petras was chosen president of the auxiliary and her husband, Adam Petras, was elected Post 51 commander.

The men's organization also elected Rex Manning, first vice-commander; Richard Hanson, second vice-commander; Tom McGowan, third vice-commander and adjutant; Ben Sanders, finance officer; Charles J. E. Wilkins, protocol marshal; Glen Grover, liaison officer; Kenny Siebert, legislative officer; Jerry Deen, historian; John Logan, chaplain; Steve Conkovich, public relations; Leo Clements, service officer; and Horace Calvo, judge advocate. Earl Smith is post commander.

Those elected to serve with Mrs. Petras are:

Glenda Brockman, senior vice-president and historian; Joan Hanson, junior vice-president; Agnes Conkovich, secretary and public relations; Charles Sanders, treasurer; Freddie McGowan, chaplain; Melba Manning, sergeant-at-arms; Betty Wilkins, parliamentary and liaison; Ann Tucker, hospital and Barbara Smith, SOS program and CARE.

Mrs. Wilkins, the retiring president, was in charge of the auxiliary session and Mrs. Lorena Varner led a prayer and the pledge of allegiance.

Guests introduced were Nadine Barnett and Laura Gardner. A spaghetti supper was served by Margie Smith and Mrs. McGowan.

Preparations were made by both groups to hold joint installation ceremonies at 7 p.m. Saturday at the post home. A buffet supper and dance are scheduled.

It was announced that special guests will attend, including Russell Dunham, winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor and an Amvets member; Andy Sgroi, national Amvets bagpiper; and several state officers.

At the men's business meeting approval was given to enter a float in the Shrine's parade in July. The entry will depict the historic flag raising on Iwo Jima in World War II. A similar float was enthusiastically received by those viewing a parade several years ago, it was noted. Names as float chairman were Conkovich and Logan.

Progress in obtaining bids to construct a large assembly building were reviewed by Sanders, Manning and Wilkins, members of the building committee. The proposed building will be constructed at Post 51's present property site on Lakeview Drive.

MRS. RICK G. FRITH, the former Miss Gail Annette Wilmouth, who was married in an evening ceremony at the Second Baptist Church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilmouth, 2217 Illinois Ave.

Second Baptist scene of Frith-Wilmouth nuptials

The wedding of Miss Gail Annette Wilmouth and Rick G. Frith was solemnized at 6 o'clock on the evening of May 24 at the Second Baptist Church, with the Rev. E. A. Dutton officiating.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilmouth, reside at 2217 Illinois Ave. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Frith, 2238 Missouri Ave.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of chantilly lace complemented with a lovely length veil secured to a lace headpiece.

Long tapered sleeves, accented with satin ribbon and bows, were set into the molded bodice made with a high stand up collar.

A satin ribbon marked the natural waistline to enhance the semi-traditional skirt.

Honor attendant was Dawn Hogler of Potosi, Ill. Serving as bridesmaids were Jeanne Champion and Becky Ship.

The groom chose Terry Tripp of Potosi as his best man, Danny Lasswell and Curtis Champion were groomsmen

Summer classes open next week

Students in Granite City public and parochial schools still may enroll in summer school classes for strengthening, reinforcing and relearning in specific areas of study, or for the enjoyment of participating in subjects not necessarily available during the school year.

Elementary attendance centers will be at Frohardt, Marshall, Stallings, Mitchell, Emerson, Nameoki, Mayville and Washington Schools.

A $2.50 fee for supplies and materials will be necessary at the time of registration for elementary classes which will begin Monday and continue for seven weeks, ending July 25. Session will be held from 8:45 to 11:45 a.m. each day.

Elementary review and strengthening programs include arithmetic, language arts with emphasis on reading, and arts and crafts. In the special interest program students in grades one through six may enroll in two courses, as follows:

At Marshall, Emerson and Nameoki: orchestra (strings) at Frohardt; social studies, arts and crafts, health and safety, language arts, creative writing, science, conservation and ecology and speech therapy at all centers. All junior high school level students and incoming 7th grade pupils will attend classes at Grigsby Junior High School from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, beginning Monday, June 9.

Subjects available are math, language arts, social studies, arts and crafts and special interest programs which include wood and metal working, plastics, art enrichment, enriched physical activities with boy and girl sections, creative dramatics and homemaking.

A fee of $3 will be charged at both the junior high and high schools for supplies and materials.

Summer sessions at both GCIS North and South begin at 8 a.m. Tuesday, June 10, and will end at 12 noon on July 25.

Both schools will offer the same basic curriculum to their students, but because of past enrollments and the physical facilities, certain classes will be offered only at one of the centers.

Those classes scheduled at only one center are: Stenography I — South. Tennis — South. Wrestling — South. Golf — North. Trigonometry — North. Welding I — South. Driver training — South.

Students are to attend their "home" schools unless they desire one of these seven courses in which case they will take all course work at the "sister" school.

All public school students are to register with their current counselors during the week of June 3 through 8.

Parochial students will register in the guidance office of their respective high schools June 2 to 8.

The cost is $3 and is non-refundable. As in the past, students will be allowed a total of three class absences before being dropped from the class. Late registration will begin

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Tuesday, June 10, and those registering late will lose that day of attendance as well as being allowed to enroll only in classes where there is "room." South Principal James Dumont and North Principal G. V. Walmsley said.

Eagles Auxiliary honors officers

Mrs. Billie Schuler, retiring president of the Granite City Eagles Auxiliary, presented gifts to the retiring officers and committee chairmen who have served in the past 12 months, at a meeting last week at Eagles Aerie 1126, located at 2508 Madison Ave.

Special honors were accorded Mrs. Lorena Delatoye. The honoree was escorted to the altar and given a memento chalice for her service to the auxiliary as treasurer for a period of 10 years.

Mrs. Betty Lyons, the new president, who was installed in ceremonies this week, announced Mrs. Helen Frazier as the "Auxiliary Mother of the Year."

In the business session, conducted by Mrs. Schuler, Mrs. Marge Hall reported on the establishment of a new auxiliary unit at Potosi, Mo.

Members of the Granite City auxiliary's ritual team served at the initiation and installation ceremonies, she said.

Mrs. Dolores Klesh and Mrs. Theresa Daigler won prizes in the social hour. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Schuler.

Malcolm Thompsons attend reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Thompson, 4170 Breckenridge Lane, returned home this week after attending a reunion of the Thompson family in Newman, Ill. They were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur W. Thompson.

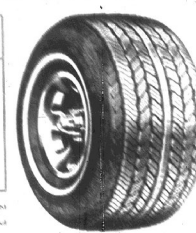

On Sunday, all the brothers and sisters attended at Lawrence Wolk convent at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Fear new highway may cause drainage problem

Concern over creating additional drainage problems in the West Madison area was discussed at the Madison City Council meeting Tuesday night as the Illinois State Department of Transportation has requested two additional sewer connections in construction of FA Route 151 from Granite City to Venice.

During future construction of FA Route 151, commonly referred to as the "Great River Road," the state wants to add two connections to city sewers into the manhole in Russell Street, approximately 90 feet east of Second Street.

According to Robert E. Kromat, district highway engineer, the connections would serve to drain that part of Russell being widened and the property immediately adjacent thereto between the Illinois Central railroad tracks and the manhole into which the connection is proposed.

Kromat maintained that the storm water involved would be entirely from the city street and not the proposed state highway. "I believe that before we enter into any letter of understanding with the state this matter should be checked by our Street and Alley committee and our superintendent of streets," Mayor Mike Sasyk said. "We already have a drainage problem in the West Madison area and we don't want to increase the problem."

At the request of Third Ward Alderman Ronald Grzywacz, the council approved stop signs at the north and south intersection of Plum and Greenwood streets, and the east and west intersections of Eighth Street and Washington Avenue. John Haynes, assistant recreation director for the city, reported he had been meeting with the Venice Recreation board on cooperative programs. Haynes said, "Due to the closeness of the west Madison area and Venice, when you have something for the kids they all attend Venice has a fine baseball program with many of our children in it. They may need some financial help getting the lights installed in the baseball field and I hope the council will help out financially when we know what the costs will be."

The council approved a resolution calling for the demolition of a structure at 1540 Fifth St. The structure was declared in a dangerous and unsafe condition.

In other action the council approved: Word of Life Tabernacle Church to hold a Sunday; parents for Special Education children to establish a road block on Saturday, June 7, at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue; a Croatian Day celebration on Saturday, Sept. 21, at St. Mary's Church; four firemen to attend a Fire College at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, campus.

June 12-15, installation of a street light near the West Madison Recreation center on Third Street between Jackson and Washington streets; hiring of college students on a part-time basis to cut weeds on vacant lots at $2.50 per hour. Mayor Sasyk arranged a Finance Committee meeting at 2 p.m. Monday to work on the 1975-76 budget.

Infant Joshua Sasyk dies

Joshua Jason Sasyk, 3-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Terry (Magdalen) Sasyk, 1222 Fourth St., Madison, died at 6:30 p.m. Monday at Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis.

The baby was born at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Also surviving are grand-children, Madison Mayor and Mrs. Mike Sasyk, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth York of Madison; great-grandchildren, Mrs. Eva Sasyk of Madison, Mrs. Martha York, Carmi, Ill., and Mrs. Teresa Nagy of Yugoslavia. Services were held Wednesday morning. Details are given in the obituary column.

Lion reservations due by Wednesday

Reservations for the Madison Lions Club installation of officers, dinner and dance are due by 5 p.m. Wednesday, June 11. The event will take place at the Polish Hall in Madison on Friday, June 13, beginning with a 7 p.m. dinner. Cost of the event is $7.50 per person and reservations may be made by telephoning 558-8085 or 452-2162.

CLOVERLEAF THEFT
A "cruise" band radio, a tape player and 24 tape recordings were stolen from the pickup truck of Jerry Christian, 2013 Harris St., Madison, parked in the 2000 block of Hillbrand Street in the Cloverleaf Subdivision. It was reported at 2 a.m. Wednesday. A vent window was broken to gain entry. The loss was estimated at $250.

Bakery robbed

A young man armed with a small black pistol entered Frenchie's Bismarck Bakery, 1755 Pontoon Road, at 2:10 p.m. Monday and stole an undetermined amount of cash. A woman clerk said the man entered and asked her for a cream roll. When she gave it to him, he displayed the pistol and said, "Give me the money," she related.

The robber took the cash and some business bills from the cash register and then told the woman to lay down in the rear storeroom. She was not able to see how he left, she said.

A neighbor reported she saw a young man matching the description on a 10-speed bicycle near the bakery just before the robbery.

The clerk described the robber as in his late 20s, about 6 feet tall, weighing 160 to 175 pounds, having shoulder-length black hair and wearing faded denim pants and jacket. He had severe acne, she recalled.

Driver injured

Otilio Valencia Jr., 48, of 1701 Bremen Ave., was injured when his car and the auto of Nicholas Arger, Jerseyville, collided on Route 203 at Maryville Road at 2:30 a.m. Wednesday. Valencia was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pain to his left side. X-rays were taken and he was released.

VOLLEY BALL NET made from plastic rounds used to hold cans together was made by students at St. Joseph School. Second graders who worked on the project, from left, are: Elicia Bush, Donna Hang, Karen Buecker, Steve Knogl, John Moore and Norman Padgett. The plastic rounds are held together by fishing line. According to school officials, the project not only saved money, but the net is easy to handle and durable.

Mental health board dinner dance Friday

The Madison County Mental Health Clinic Quad-City Center board of directors will hold its annual dinner dance and installation of newly-elected officers on Friday, June 13, at Sunset Hills Country Club. Reservations costing $10 per person must be made by Saturday, June 7, with Mrs. Ruth Lamb, chairman, 877-7348 or with the clinic at 2024 State St., 877-4420.

A cocktail hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30, followed by dancing.

Officers who will be installed include Granite City attorney William F. Kinder, president; the Rev. Ellis Dugger, vice-president; Evelyn Leisner, secretary; and Ruth Lamb, treasurer.

According to Mrs. Lamb, the public is invited to attend the dinner and evening festivities.

Van overturns after crash

Granite City firemen, police, rescue workers and Illinois Power Co. troubleshooters all were required to clean up the aftermath of an accident at 25th Street and Edison Avenue at 10:40 a.m. Tuesday in which a van overturned after colliding with an auto and striking a utility pole.

James Andrews, 41, Florissant, Mo., driver of the truck, suffered multiple injuries to his back and legs, but was released after treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

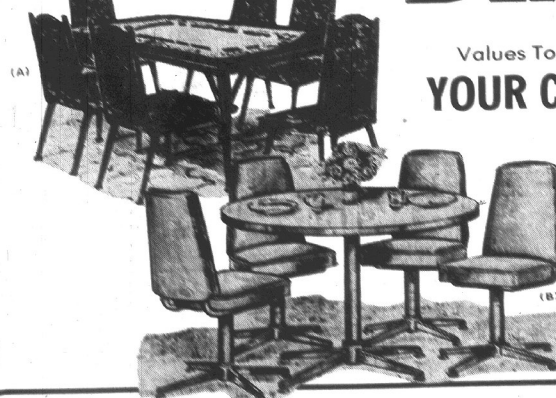

Andrews is the foreman for J&J Trailer Repair Service, 2200 W. Chain of Rocks Road, which is owned by Mrs. Dorothy Dickerson.

The van also belonged to Mrs. Dickerson. Witnesses said the van and the auto of Evelyn Ackerman, 2808 State St., collided in the intersection and the truck was pushed into a utility pole, breaking the pole at its base.

She was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way. Andrews was pinned inside the truck for several minutes and rescue workers were required to free him. A fire truck was required to wash away gasoline from the truck which spilled on the highway. Several power lines broke when the utility pole was struck and hampered clean-up efforts until repaired.

MOTORCYCLIST INJURED
Robert Newman, 26, of 36 Mike Drive, Arlington Heights, was injured when his motorcycle went out of control and left the roadway on Arlington Drive a quarter-mile east of State and Route 55 at 2:30 p.m. Monday. He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital in good condition with multiple abrasions to his right elbow and around both eyes.

Washington theater has new manager

Charles E. VanBibber has assumed the duties of manager of the Washington Theater, 1335 Nineteenth St. It was announced by Edward B. Arthur, of Arthur Enterprises Inc., St. Louis. Michael Mennerick, Granite City, also was named assistant manager of the local theater.

VanBibber has been with the Arthur Enterprises for the past six years and formerly was manager of the Granada Theater in St. Louis.

Prior to joining the St. Louis theater chain he worked for Low's Theaters.

VanBibber holds a master's degree in business from the University of Utah and his hobbies are tennis, golf, bowling and baseball.

"We are in the process of updating the theater here," VanBibber said. "A new screen is presently being custom-made for the Washington and we will be putting in new seats. Right now we are concentrating on scrubbing and cleaning everything."

"The theater will show multiple, first-run films, the best of the big pictures from the past, and hold several family-matinee."

"With a parking lot just across the street and another just a half a block away the Washington is really convenient for the people of the area, and I am looking forward to working here in Granite City," the new manager concluded.

Straight A's by Valerie Harris

About 900 students at Illinois State University, Bloomington, Normal, have been recognized for earning straight A grades during the spring semester. Among them is Valerie Harris, 2640 Benton St.

The honor is considered significant at Illinois State, which has 18,000 students on its main campus.

Each student is personally notified of the honor by Dr. Arlan Helgeson, acting dean of the university.

NEW MANAGER of Washington Theater, Charles E. VanBibber, right, checks future billings with Michael Mennerick who has been named assistant manager.

Handgun use to guard one's home is limited

The national debate among proponents and opponents of handguns is continuing, although some initial laws have been passed to restrict trade in so-called "Saturday night specials."

At issue is: Do individual citizens have a right to own handguns, whether for their personal protection or for sporting purposes?

Proponents of private handgun possession cite the need for citizens to be able to protect their homes and families. The Illinois State Bar Association this week reminded Illinoisans there are laws governing the use of lethal force in repelling a burglar or robber.

Force can be used against an intruder entering a home, the homeowner "reasonably believes" that force is the only way to protect life or property. But that does not necessarily mean the homeowner can start shooting.

Lethal force is another matter. The law says the homeowner would be justified in using force that is intended to kill or do great bodily harm only if entry to the house is made in a violent or riotous manner—and if there is reason to believe the use of lethal force would prevent a personal assault or a felony in the home.

There are cases in which a homeowner's use of threat to use a handgun has thwarted a burglary or the family itself.

Congress acted in 1968 to ban importation of "Saturday night specials" into this country, although the manufacture of cheap handguns continues in the United States.

Illinois enacted legislation in 1974 prohibiting the sale of cheap handguns, which account for at least one-fourth of the illegal weapons confiscated by law enforcement agencies in the state.

PICKUP TRUCK LOOTED

Items valued at $800 were stolen from the pickup truck and camper of Edward Bunk, 2127 Hildebrand St., Cleveland Subdivision, parked at his home, it was reported at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday. Taken were an outboard motor, two rods and reels and a tackle box.

More home loans for veterans

Despite the credit crunch and the scarcity of money, veterans are obtaining Veterans Administration loans at record rates, according to H. P. Leth, loan guaranty officer of the VA's Chicago regional office. He says the VA loan business throughout Illinois has doubled in the past year and a half.

"This doubling of business has brought its own headaches," Leth explains. "The staff has not been increased to this extent. Short cuts have been found to expedite processing, and lenders and real estate brokers have been cooperating."

"In spite of the heavy load, processing time for the average loan from the date of request for a Certificate of Reasonable Value to the issuance of a guaranty certificate rarely exceeds 30 days," he noted.

Leth said numerous problems have developed. One involves the obtaining of proper legal descriptions and lot sizes. The VA has many requests for reviews because of faulty or inaccurate information received at the onset of this processing cycle. He said real estate brokers could be of much help in these instances.

Leth urged that brokers obtain from the seller his survey, regardless of how old, or his title policy, or both before submitting a request for a loan to the lender.

This information will enable the lender to submit correct information to the VA and expedite processing. Brokers can close a deal and receive their commissions more fast if they follow this rule, he concluded.

Mexican Commission sponsors Youth Club

Classes in conversational Spanish, folk dancing and sports will be part of a Youth Club program to be sponsored by the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City, it was announced this week.

At a commission meeting in the new headquarters building, 1801 Spruce St., Robert Robles, president, announced the appointment by the board of directors of Rufus Valencia as chairman, and Ted Antoff, co-chairman, to head a special committee to aid the Youth Club project.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Henry Mack to open the business session. New members welcomed to their first meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Rick Seranno and Mrs. Ruth Elliot.

Applicants accepted as new members were Casper S. Nighobossian, Mike Sagetti and Lionel Portell.

Success of a dance to benefit the Joseph Gonzales Scholarship Fund resulted in two grants being awarded this year, Robles said. The recipients are David Kaempf, a senior at Granite City High School South, and Coral Atkinson, a North High School senior.

Plans were finalized for a taco stand at the Granite City Jaycees' homecoming celebration, scheduled to take place June 19 to June 22 at the American Village Shopping Center.

Preliminary plans also were made for the annual fiesta held in September. Robles said the fiesta will be held at the commission's new building and will be the first large-scale event of its type to be held at the former Hungarian Home in 10 years.

Renovation of the second floor hall, currently underway, are expected to be completed by the fiesta date, Abel Valencia, building chairman, reported.

To conclude the monthly business session a buffet meal was served by four teenage members, Monica Grim, Sarita Garcia, Della Antoff and Julia Mendoza.

Retired Persons band entertains

The newly-organized kitchen band of the American Association of Retired Persons played at a sing-along for a capacity crowd at the Senior Citizens Center, 1920 Edison Ave.

For special entertainment, the program featured a quartet, soloists and novelty numbers.

Mrs. Delores Klesh directs the band, with Mrs. Thelma Shannon as accompanist. Other members are Mrs. Vina Law, president, and Mesdames Ruby Corbett, Clara Schilling, Julia Mainor, Evelyn Davis, Viola Scrivner, Frances Jones and Lucille Pierce.

Other AARP members assisted in serving cakes and beverages.

The band practices every Monday night at the center. The next regular meeting of the association will be June 11 at Brunswick Tri Mor Bowl, Mrs. Law reported.

Governor's office to reopen one day a week

Services of the Governor's Action Office have been required in the Quad-City area on a one-day-per-week basis, a spokesman for the East St. Louis Action office announced this week.

Walker formerly maintained an office in Granite City which was closed earlier this year for budgetary purposes. At that time, it was announced this area would be served by the East St. Louis office.

A spokesman for the governor said this week that the services will be provided each Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the YMCA in Granite City.

Niedringhaus and Edison avowed.

Persons will be on hand each Tuesday to answer questions about eligibility for benefits, including the circuit breaker property tax relief program. They also can help with any problems individuals are having with state government, including red tape which may be delaying unemployment checks or other aid, he said.

On other weekdays, aid is available to all Madison and St. Clair County residents at the Governor's Action Office, 516 St. Louis Ave., East St. Louis, or by calling that office at 274-3310.

Kiwanis boat races July 27

The Evening Kiwanis Club at its Monday meeting set July 27 as the date of the 13th annual Kiwanis boat races.

The club currently is contacting state of Illinois officials for permission to again use Horseshoe Lake.

Kiwanian Darrell Lindsey will be chairman of the ad book and William Seebold again will serve as general chairman.

High-speed, alcohol-burning hydroplanes will compete in an afternoon of outboard racing. Joseph Palovich, president of the club, said that the next several meetings will be devoted to planning the event which is the group's major money-earning project for the year.

Six file for associate judge post

Six persons have applied to Chief Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman to attempt to fill a vacancy being created when the appointment of Associate Judge William E. Johnson of Edwardsville expires.

Among those who applied before the May 30 deadline was Johnson who is seeking reappointment. Others who have applied are Steve A. Maragides of Granite City; John W. Day and former Madison County State's Attorney Roland W. Griffith, both of Alton; Helen Louise Moorman of Edwardsville and Sylvester Carter of East St. Louis.

Ballots are to be mailed to all circuit judges in the Third Judicial Circuit and the judges will select the new associate judge. The new four-year appointment is to be effective July 1.

The salary is $37,500. Johnson failed to be reappointed at the end of his term as he was unable to receive the necessary five retention votes from the eight circuit judges. Seven other associate judges were reappointed.

It was felt Johnson's bid for reappointment may have failed because he opposed Circuit Judge Victor Morello in the March 1974 Democratic primary and lost by a vote of 13,807 to 10,079.

Lucas completes advanced training

Army Private Charles Lucas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bell, 903 Bissell St., Madison, has completed nine weeks of advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Infantry Training Center, Ft. Polk, La.

He received general training as a light weapons infantryman and as a mortar and recoilless rifle crewman, in addition to specialized weapons instruction.

Pvt. Lucas also was taught proper use of high explosives and placement, detection and disarming of mines.

Teamwork was emphasized while he learned to work as a member of a rifle squad, mortar squad or direct fire section. Each team member completed the training qualified to perform related jobs in case of casualties.

Chamber music at River Fest is being expanded

Last summer's success has prompted this summer's expansion of the chamber music portion of the Mississippi River Festival (MRP) on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The chamber music, performed primarily in the geodesic dome room of the "Religious Center," "had tremendous response" last summer, according to William Tarwater, chairman of the university's department of music. Based on that response, the program is being expanded from two performances to a total of four this summer.

"There is obviously a dedicated audience for chamber music in the metropolitan area," said Tarwater. "And there is not much else of this type of music offered in this area during the summer months."

"Also," he added, "these programs are a good summer opportunity for the performers. And both audience and performers have found that the Religious Center is an excellent place to perform."

The center, designed by R. Buckminster Fuller, is primarily a geodesic dome structure. It has, however, "surprisingly excellent acoustics for chamber music once the audience is seated," said Tarwater. "We have found it much to our liking."

Three of this summer's performances will be held in the Religious Center, and a fourth is scheduled in the Communications Building theater.

"Our final performance, Stravinsky's suite from 'Histoire du Soldat,' lends itself well to choreographed dance accompaniment, and has a larger group of instrumentalists," said Tarwater. "The theater gives us the opportunity to use the lighting, staging and dance accompaniment that goes so well with the music."

Along with Stravinsky, this summer's programming includes the works of Beethoven, Bach, Chopin, Schubert, Mozart, Bartok, Brahms and Villa Lobos.

The performers for the chamber series are comprised of members of the St. Louis Symphony and the department of music faculty of SIUE.

Tarwater gives Henry Low, a part-time music instructor at SIUE and principal bass for the St. Louis Symphony, as well as the Symphony's personnel manager much of the credit for this summer's promising season.

"Chamber musicians must have an affinity for one another to really play well," Tarwater comments. "And Henry was able to see the possibilities among the prospective performers to bring the right ones together for the right performance."

"He knew who played similarly and who thought similarly. That is important to well-played chamber music," Low, together with Tarwater, Robert Coleman of the Symphony, and MRP Manager Lyle Ward, comprised the advisory committee that selected the performers and the performances.

It was, as Tarwater explained, "a difficult task of narrowing down the many possible choices to the ones that fit best. Henry was the key to it. As far as picking the performers in particular, Henry was it."

With the mix of Symphony performers and SIUE faculty, such selection was not always easy. But the end result is what Tarwater calls "an interesting program, with some variety from performance to performance, but a good unity for the whole season."

This summer's chamber music portion of the Mississippi River Festival includes:

July 17 — Beethoven — Song Cycle, "An die ferne Geliebte"; Dale Moore, baritone, and Marion Lange, piano.

Beethoven — Sonata in C minor, Op. 11; Marion Lampe, piano.

Beethoven — sextet in E-flat Major, Op. 71; Robert Coleman and George Melloff, clarinets; George Berry and Robert Wisnesky, bassoons; and Roland Pandolfi and Carl Schaefer, horns.

July 24 — Bach — Sonata for Flute, unaccompanied, Janet Scott.

Chopin — Sonata in G minor for Cello and Piano, Op. 65; Joseph Pival, cello, and Linda Perry, piano.

Schubert — Quintet in E-flat Major, Op. 14, "Trout"; Kent Perry, violin; Robert Schaefer, viola; Joseph Pival, cello; Henry Low, bass; and Linda Perry, piano.

July 31 — Mozart — Quartet in D Major for Flute and Strings, K. 285; Janet Scott, flute; Kent Perry, violin; Robert Schaefer, viola; and Joseph Pival, cello.

Bartok — Piano Sonata, Barbara Liberman.

Major, Op. 18, John Korman and Kent Perry, violins; John Korman and Robert Schaefer, violas; and Catherine Lebr and Joseph Pival, cellos.

August 7 — Villa Lobos — Choro No. 2; Janice Coleman, flute, and Robert Coleman, clarinet.

Mozart — Quintet in A Major for Clarinet and Strings, K. 581; Robert Coleman, clarinet; John Korman and Kent Perry, violins; Robert Schaefer, viola; and Joseph Pival, cello.

Stravinsky — Suite from "Histoire du Soldat"; Gerhardt Zimmerman, conductor; John Korman, violin; Henry Low, bass; Robert Coleman, clarinet; Robert Wisnesky, bassoon; Allan McMurry, trumpet; Bernard Schneider, trombone; Richard O'Donnell, percussion; and Dale Moore, narrator.

DEDICATION SPEAKER Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, who helped officially dedicate a Blue Star Memorial Highway marker in front of the Granite City Fire Department main station. At left is Mrs. Bert St. Ivary and behind Mayor Schuler are Mrs. George Smolich and Mrs. Delbert McKissick, members of the Garden Study Club which erected the memorial.

Blue Star marker dedicated

The Garden Study Club of Granite City dedicated a Blue Star Memorial marker on Madison Avenue at the main fire station, with help from the Junior Club and the cooperation of the city firemen.

Frigit Smolich, president of the Junior Club gave the pledge to the flag, and the Granite City High School South Band played the National Anthem.

The invocation was given by the Reverend Carl Eschenbrenner, St. John's United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Clara Winter, president of Garden Study, welcomed these present, including club members from Edwardsville and Belleville and several clubs of Granite City.

Mrs. Winter introduced the District Five director, Mrs. Arvid Nelson, Mayor Paul Schuler and Vice Chief Don Parente.

Mrs. Carolyn Stearns presented the marker to Mayor Schuler and it was accepted by the mayor with words of appreciation. The unveiling was done by Mrs. Pace Smolich and Mrs. Marthe St. Ivary.

Mrs. Paul Blankenship gave the history of Blue Star markers which are Garden Club projects.

The Legion of Honor, Unit of Annad Temple, placed a memorial wreath at the base of the marker.

Members of the Legion of Honor who participated in the dedication were Don Thompson, Jim Hendrix, John Hill, Jack Chenneman, and Wilmer Winter. Thompson placed the wreath.

Benediction was given by the Rev. Don Fielding of Hope Lutheran Church, followed by "Taps," played by Steve Rostin.

Outdoor graduation at SIUE—if it doesn't rain

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold its spring commencement exercises Friday, June 13, at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility, also known as the Mississippi River Festival site.

A concert by the SIUE Symphonic Band will begin at 6:30 p.m., with commencement exercises immediately following at 7 p.m.

More than 2,000 candidates will be awarded degrees by Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIUE. No speaker is scheduled for this year's ceremonies.

Names of the degree candidates will be read. Dr. Clarence W. Stephens of Carbondale will be awarded the honorary doctor of humane letters degree for his "significant influence on the development of SIUE."

The university will award a posthumous master's degree in education to Lora L. Leach, who was fatally injured in October. The children of Mrs. Leach will accept the degree.

Following the commencement ceremonies, a reception honoring the graduates will be held at the outdoor site. The graduates, members of their families, and their friends are invited to attend.

Candidates should arrive at the commencement site no later than 6 p.m., according to Emil J. Stigler, chairman of the commencement committee. Upon arrival, they should report to

Pool opening due Saturday

The Wilson Park swimming pool will open at 1 p.m. Saturday, according to Harold Brown, park district superintendent.

"It's going to be close," Brown said, "but emergency repairs to water lines should be completed no later than Friday morning."

Originally scheduled to open last weekend, emergency repair work became necessary to correct a water leak which developed last week, causing a loss of nearly 14,000 gallons of water.

Brown asked that persons planning to use the pool Saturday first contact the pool office at 408-4000 to be sure no late developments have arisen.

Larry Libby wins Optimist state oratorical contest

Larry L. Libby, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Libby, 1628 Venice Ave., won first place in the State Optimist International Oratorical contest held in Quincy, Ill. He will receive a cash scholarship and the college of his choice. He presently is a sophomore at Granite City High School North.

Libby delivered an original oration entitled, "Give Me Your Hand," which dealt with the misperception of elderly people and the needs of the nursing home in the country.

Larry is active in Mosque and Gavel and Social Studies. He belongs to the National Forensic League, and will serve as student body second vice president for the 1975-76 school year.

His speech coaches are Dr. Gost Michaeloff and F. Gordon Mueller.

He won first place in the boy's division in the local contest held Jan. 21 at the YMCA.

Crescenda Diane Anger won the local first place honors for the which could affect the planned opening time.

The pool is to be open from Saturday through Labor Day, Sept. 1, from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. each day. Season passes are being offered by the park district. They may be purchased after 4 p.m. at the pool office starting tomorrow.

Family season passes may be purchased for $15 and individual season passes for $15 for adults and $10 for children. Regular district identification cards are required.

Regular daily pool admission prices for park ID card holders are $1 for adults and $0.50 for children. Non residents will be required to pay $1.50 for adults and $1 for children.

Annual Red Cross dinner is Tuesday

Brian J. McDonough, administrator of the Missouri Illinois Red Cross Blood Center, will be the speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross at the Officers' Club of the Granite City Army Installation, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Reservations for the dinner session may be made through Friday by calling the Red Cross office at 452-2184. Tickets are $4 per person.

Election of board members and installation of officers will be held during the meeting, at which entertainment will be provided by Paul Mathey.

McDonough was appointed administrator of the bi-state blood program last November. He began his Red Cross career in 1968 in Wichita, Kan., where he worked at the Wichita regional Red Cross blood center while attending college.

He was named administrator of the Wichita center in 1971 after having served as assistant manager for one year. In his position with the midwestern center, he represented that organization in its dealings with its blood centers.

He has served on the task force for the refinement and implementation of the Haskins and Sells budget and accounting plan and as an alternate for the reciprocity agreement negotiations between the Red Cross and the American Association of Blood Banks.

He is a graduate of Wichita State University with a bachelor's degree in psychology.

Army to celebrate 200 years

St. Louis area Army components and agencies have combined to plan an extensive program of events in observance of the Army's 200th anniversary Saturday, June 14.

The bicentennial celebration will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Gateway Arch.

Emphasizing the importance of the Army to this area with its thousands of military and civilian employees, the public will be shown various types of military hardware, displays and demonstrations of equipment.

The public event also will feature singing groups, band concerts and a ceremony with participation by the American Legion and other patriotic organizations. Since June 14 is also Flag Day, a "manning of the colors" by color guards is scheduled.

U.S. Senator Thomas Eagleton of Missouri will be the principal speaker. Highlighting the day-long activities will be an aerial demonstration by the Army's precision paratroopers, the "Golden Knights."

Student earns activity award

Gerald W. Pitts of Alton, a senior at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been named the first recipient of the Franzanna Joyner Award at the university.

The award was established at SIUE last year to recognize students for outstanding performance in student activities.

Pitts, who is majoring in administrative services and data processing, received the award, including a monetary gift of $50, at a luncheon given in his honor.

Ron Roman, director of Student Activities, said some of Pitts' achievements include membership on the University Center Board for several years, volunteer work for the Mississippi River Festival and work at the University Center information desk.

Pitts also served as chairman of the Major Events Council during the current academic year, volunteering his time and talents on Winterfest and Springfest activities. He served as an undergraduate intern in the Student Activities office during the same period.

He has been selected as a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and is a recipient of the SIUE Activities Honor Society Award. Pitts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pitts of Alton.

Division 5 re-elects Mrs. Petras

Mrs. Jackie Petras of Granite City was re-elected president of the Amvets Auxiliary Fifth Division at a meeting of Amvets and Auxiliary divisions units taking place this week at Mount Vernon Post 4.

Other local women appointed or elected to Fifth Division posts were Glenda Brockman, senior vice-president; Charles Sanders, treasurer; Betty Wilkins, chaplain; Agnes Czekovich, public relations and historian; Ann Tucker, hospital; Margie Smith, sergeant-at-arms; Joan Hanson, Americanism; Trudie McGowan, scholarship; and Karen Deen, SOS (Serving Our Servicemen).

Mrs. Petras, who was recently elected president of Quad-City Amvets Auxiliary Unit 51, will be installed in the divisional office at the Illinois Amvets-Auxiliary state convention, set for June 19 to June 21, at Crete.

Special guests attending the meeting at Mount Vernon were Mrs. Lois McCann of Chicago, senior vice-president of the Illinois Amvets Auxiliary, and Mrs. Ruth Haak of Lincoln, executive secretary.

A donation was authorized to Target Dottie, a project to aid needy children supported by the auxiliary's state and divisional groups.

At the Amvets' business session, Adam Petras of Granite City was nominated as candidate for commander of Divisions 3, 4 and 5. The area encompasses posts from Mount Vernon in the southern section of the state to the outskirts of Chicago. The election will be held at the state convention.

Guests of the men's group were Norman Boes of Peoria, state senior vice-commander; Don Russell of Springfield, Ill., national executive committee member; and Tom Leddrand of Springfield, Divisions 3, 4 and 5.

commander.

Madison Post 204 members attending were Vasil Graville, Post 204 commander, Stanley Skubish and Andy Evangeloff. In addition to those named other Amvets Post 31 members present were Bill Brockman, Tom McGowan, Richard Hanson and Jerry Deen.

A buffet dinner and dancing followed the business meetings.

Mrs. Clark hosts Past Noble Browns

Mrs. Mabel Clark, 2643 Washington Ave., and Mrs. Jewell Patterson were co-hostesses at a noon luncheon Monday, served to members of the Past Noble Grand Club of Juana Rebekah Lodge in the Clark home.

Games were played during the afternoon and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lenore Eichen, Mrs. Alice King and Mrs. Emma Steiner.

Also present were Mesdames Ina Meyers, Amalia Jung, Victoria Kent, Esther Langoff, Florence Partridge, Eleanor Patterson, Albert Phillips, Mildred Robertson, Mary Scoggins and Mabel Husley.

The July 7 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Meyers, 1517 Cottage Ave., with Mrs. Laura Belle Benson as co-hostess.

Christian Women plan luncheon

The June luncheon sponsored by the Southern Illinois Christian Women's Club will be held at 11:45 a.m. on Wednesday, June 11, at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville, according to Mrs. Dorothy Perkins, chairman.

A special feature of the afternoon will be a presentation of brides and bridesmaids, both past and present. Soloist will be Carol Clemens and keynote speaker is to be Carolyn Berg from the Campus Crusade.

Babysitting will be at the Church of Latter Day Saints Nursery, adjacent to Fischer's parking lot. Mothers will be charged a fee of 50 cents and are to bring a sack lunch and drink for their child.

Reservations may be made by calling Jan Krause at 335-3217 or Virginia Morris at 397-4777. Tickets will cost $2.25 for the luncheon and program. Mrs. Perkins reported.

KENTUCKY DRIFTERS AT GLEN CARBON BAPTIST Johnny and Margaret Baize, known as the "Kentucky Drifters," will present a program of country and gospel music at 7 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Glen Carbon, according to the Rev. Junior Adams, pastor. The public is invited to attend.

Safko-Lasslo wedding in Los Angeles, Calif.

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Carol Ann Lasslo, a daughter of Mrs. Marie E. Phelps, 460 S. Catalina, Los Angeles, Calif., and Walter S. Lasslo of Florissant, Mo., formerly of Granite City, and Michael Stephen Safko, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lambert, 3065 Ocean Blvd., Long Beach, Calif., taking place on May 28.

The 1 o'clock double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John D. Stoege at St. Basil's Catholic Church in Los Angeles.

Proceeding the service Walter S. Lasslo, of Price, Utah, a brother of the bride, read "A Man and a Woman" taken from the Old Testament, and "The Greatest of These in Love" from the New Testament of the Bible.

White urns holding arrangements of white China vases, potted plants and gypsophila decorated the sanctuary for the afternoon service. The church organist played "Ave Maria" during the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride selected a white satin gown made in A-line style with an inset panel on the front of the skirt was appliqued with Alencon lace and traced with seed pearls and bugle beads.

The decorative trim was repeated on the hem of the skirt, which extended into a cathedral length train.

She wore a Juliet crown to hold in place her cathedral veil and she carried a bouquet of white and yellow roses.

Maid of honor Miss Linda Parker of Alhambra, Calif., wore a long turquoise crepe gown designed in A-line fashion. The dress had short sleeves and was enhanced with floral appliques. Bridesmaids included Miss Carol Safko, a sister of the groom, from Los Angeles, Miss Alice Voss of Granite City and Mrs. Rebecca Caffey of Whittier, Calif.

They chose identical gowns in powder blue, yellow and tangerine complemented with white picture hats. Each attendant carried a white wicker basket filled with assorted spring flowers.

The groom selected Michael Olivares as his best man. Groomsmen and ushers included Dan Monday, Andrew Lasslo of Kansas City, Mo., and Stephen Lasslo, both brothers of the bride, and Dennis J. Orsey of Granite City, the bride's uncle.

Susan Parker, the flower girl, was dressed in a white frock similar in style to the bridesmaids' dresses. Robert Scott Orsey, a cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert, parents of the groom, hosted the rehearsal dinner.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Brass Monkey Restaurant in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Phelps, mother of the bride, was attired in a blue slipper-satin gown worn under a flowing chiffon tulle. She wore white accessories and a yellow rose wristlet.

A 1973 graduate of Granite City High School, the former Miss Lasslo also attended IBM Basic Engineering School, graduating in 1974. She is now employed as an associate customer engineer.

The groom was graduated from the Kenner High School and is working as an IBM order processing specialist. Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Miss Alice Voss, George Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Orsey and son, Dennis, all of Granite City; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orsey and sons, Scott and Christopher, from Stamford, Conn.

Southern Ill.
Methodists in 4-day meeting
World hunger, election of delegates to the United Methodist General Conference of 1976 in Portland Ore., the status and role of women in the ministry and other emerging social and religious concerns of the church are on the agenda of the forty-day annual session of the denomination's Southern Illinois Conference in Lebanon yesterday through Saturday. Bishop Lance Webb, Springfield, is presiding over the yearly convocation of local church delegates.

They will review the faith and actions of the church in the previous 12 months, and elect delegates for the coming year. Visiting worship leader for the conference at McKendree College is Bishop Joel D. McDavid of the Florida Episcopal Area. He will assist Bishop Webb at the traditional convocation service for pastors and elders June 6.

The annual session brings together from 400 churches in Southern Illinois more than 700 voting delegates, half clergy and half lay. They represent 79,173 United Methodists. Election of delegates to the General Conference is conducted every four years. To represent the conference at the world forum of United Methodism is considered one of the highest honors clergy and lay colleagues can confer on one another.

The local delegation to the 1,000 member Portland convocation will number eight: four clergy and four lay. The agenda includes Bishop Webb's "state of the church" address; adoption of a budget for calendar 1976; disclosure of fiscal and membership statistics; receipt of reports from boards and agencies; recognition of conference institutions and agencies; establishment of minimum salaries for clergy and the Sacrament of Holy Communion in conjunction with the Convocation Service of giving and receiving appointments.

The Rev. Dr. Wendell A. Robinson, Olathe, will preach the traditional Memorial sermon on opening day.

APARTMENT IS LOOTED
A $30 tape player, some prescription medicine, two sheets and pillowcases, four chairs and four beds were stolen from the apartment of Elizabeth Parker, 2115 upstairs Delmar Ave. It was reported at 1:15 p.m. Monday. A portion of broken glass in the front door was believed removed to gain entry. All the kitchen cabinets and dresser drawers were ransacked.

May building value $100,550

A $40,000 project to remodel the former Maryland Mart store into the Bob Thomas Memorial Funeral Home was among 51 permits listing values of $100,550 issued by Granite City during May.

Bob Thomas Jr. is remodeling the former grocery at 2205 Pontoon Road into a new funeral home which he will operate. David, Dan and Don Partney Jr. are partners with Thomas in the building purchase and remodeling.

Other permits included 13 for home additions with values total $9,257; five for new garages and carports valued at $10,960; 25 for remodeling or repairing houses with work costing $26,548; one for a $10,000 mobile home and six for other projects with values of $3,785.

The city also granted permits to raze four buildings.

Permits issued, besides the funeral home permit, were for Mrs. Edna Foley, 1724 Bremen, siding, $1,600; Benjamin Speck, 2145 Woodlawn, siding, $1,600; Delbert Walls, 1728 Bremen, siding, $1,600; Ed Fancher, 2460 Sheridan, siding and porch, $2,000; Myron Keller, 2200 Rock Road, raze a building, no cost listed; and Jack Angle, 2329 Cardinal, new porch, $200.

Bicyclist struck
Jimmy Cann, 12, of 2023 Missouri Ave., was injured when his bicycle and the auto of Ruth Dowditt, 2906 Indiana Ave., collided at 20th and Adams streets at 4:20 p.m. Monday. The auto driver said a truck obscured her vision and she did not see the approaching bicyclist.

The boy was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for injuries to his right knee and was released.

Gulf floor's natural gas deposits aid Quad-Cities

(H-Line Magazine Of Illinois Power Co.)

Stingray to some persons is a feared creature of the sea, but to Midwesterners, it's a pipeline to natural gas.

Homes, businesses, and industries supplied with natural gas by Illinois Power Company this winter likely used some of a new natural gas supply tapped from a source in the Gulf of Mexico and carried homeward by a transmission system known as Stingray.

For many years, IP customers have received natural gas through a network of pipelines from wells located in southern and western states. But because the available supply has not been enough to match residential, commercial and industrial demands, additional gas supplies were needed.

Other sources had to be found, and after studies and exhaustive explorations, new deposits were discovered deep within the floor of the Gulf. Two of Illinois Power's suppliers, Natural Gas Co. of America and Transline Gas Co., are the owners of Stingray Pipeline Co.

The partners are subsidiaries, respectively, of Peoples Gas Co. of Chicago and Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. of Houston, Tex. Their initial operation of Stingray during the 1974-75 heating season has not eliminated IP's natural gas shortage, but it is an important step in the effort to maintain existing supplies.

When all facilities now planned are in operation, this $155 million gas transmission system will have a capacity to move up to one billion cubic feet of natural gas per day.

Facilities constructed in 1974 have a carrying capacity of about 650 million cubic feet of natural gas a day, which will be increased to about 900 million cubic feet a day next season. This volume and ultimate capacity is, of course, dependent on progress of development drilling and platform completion in other offshore blocks.

Stingray is the largest pipeline system to be built in the Gulf of Mexico in several years. Construction, which began on June 14, 1974, involved laying 22.5 miles of 12-inch to 36-inch pipeline and building an on-shore compressor station last year as well as laying 24 miles of line and fabricating an off-shore compressor station this year.

In phase two, other facilities will be completed at the off-shore compressor station. The project attaches new gas reserves estimated to be about three trillion cubic feet, coming from 17 offshore blocks in the West and East Cameron and Vermilion areas.

The new pipeline was joined to an existing 36-inch line built in 1971 that extends 27 miles into the Gulf.

Stingray extends 125 miles from shore, farther than any other major natural gas line, into a record water depth of 365 feet.

The principal Stingray line is path Singray followed in the Gulf. 20 men, who measured the talled pipe as it was laid.

Company supervisors, engineers, inspectors and clerks, all necessary to an operation of this magnitude. Orders for many materials had to precede construction by at least a year to accommodate or allow for manufacturing lead times and delivery.

Timing of purchases became more crucial with material and energy shortages and rising prices during the second half of 1973.

In January of that year, 60-day delivery for U.S. steel was routine. But a year later, one pipe mill sold its entire 1974 production capacity in that first month.

Mills, which had submitted quotes on the project's $3,000 tons of pipe and had received letters of intent to purchase, replied with "no deal."

A further complication, fuel shortages threatened a guaranteed delivery of steel. Other shortages plagued purchasing personnel.

The project required nearly a million pounds of $8.9 per cent zinc for cathodic protection. Made into bracelets, the zinc was placed at 1,000-foot intervals in the pipeline to retard corrosion.

The supplier turned up 200 tons short, forcing the company to buy on the world market at nearly double the price. Natural also had a hand in the marshaling game. Enough concrete to build 10 miles of four-lane interstate highway, or 160,000 tons, was used to coat Stingray's lines, adding protection and weight to the pipe.

Low grade iron ore — 120,000 tons — was required to keep the line submerged. This ore, purchased from Canada, had to be shipped before the St. Lawrence Seaway froze in 1973 because it was needed before the spring thaw.

Water depth was a mighty cost-factor in this project. In water of depths exceeding 200 feet, cost of placing platform went up astronomically. To select the optimum location for the main line terminal platform from which feeder lines would fan out to gas producing platforms, computers were enlisted.

Mistakes on offshore projects are costly, with estimates for repairing a leak in a 36-inch line in 70 feet of water running as high as $90,000, while in 170 feet of water, the expense ranges in the $1.5 million category.

Almost as soon as the company received a federal authorization, the project was "go" because the pipelaying season usually extends from late spring to mid-September before seasonal storms and winter seas disrupt or close down construction.

Offshore construction uses all the techniques for dry land drilling plus a few extras and refinements.

Forty-foot sections of pipe weighing 18 tons each were coated with concrete and joined in metal-wrapped barge before being barged to the aquatic right-of-way.

Each section was welded, joined in metal-wrapped and sealed prior to being laid in a shallow trench on the sea bottom.

1,600 crew, who operated five lay barges and four pipe burying barges.

divers, who walked the pipeline as it was laid up to depths of 200 feet, when a midge submarine took over 30 X-ray technicians, who monitored the thousands of welds made on board the lay barges.

15 surveyors, who charted the Joint of pipe were inspected before becoming part of Stingray. One the line was safely tucked away in a trench, the pipeline had to be perfect.

Life expectancy of the line is 40 years. Reduced chances for leakage, divers walked the pipeline checking visually or by touch for imperfections.

At depths of more than 200 feet, three small submarines performed the line inspections with crews of two—an observer experienced in underwater pipeline inspections and a pilot. The observer operated a videotape camera to record the pipeline's condition.

Offshore pipelines are inspected to assess any potential damage, including gaps in the protective concrete coating, the line's failure to follow contours of the ocean floor, detachment of zinc bracelets, and to confirm that valves along the line are oriented properly for future tie-ins.

After the pipeline was inspected, a burning barge covered her up a few days later. This frame, having high-pressure air jet nozzles connected to it, was pulled along the pipe removing the "earth-like" material around and under the pipe.

While the investment is enormous and physical dimension grandiose, the real substance of this project is the new gas supply for use now and in years to come.

Gulf Coast offshore drilling for oil and natural gas began nearly a quarter of a century ago.

In two decades, a new and steadily expanding industry has been established, with operations moving out farther into the Gulf of Mexico in search of new supplies of energy.

Offshore drilling began in the 1950s but was carried out from platforms in shallow waters. In 1963, the first truly mobile offshore drilling vessel was launched by Marathon-LeTourneau.

This was a step making offshore rigs technological instruments designed for exploration and development of offshore regions.

Offshore drillers have two kinds of drilling capability, one of which is a fleet of mobile vessels which move into newly leased territory and drill expendable holes to "prove up" the area.

The mobile fleet, if successful, is followed by permanent platforms from which as many as 40 wells can be drilled directionally to develop the fields.

Later, these platforms become production sites, with many wells tied into gathering and transmission facilities.

While the deep-sea water Gulf operations are now at 365 feet, one can expect eventual depths to reach 1,000 feet or more because some Gulf acreage blocks with that water depth are already under federal lease.

As water depths become greater, costs will continue to rise. But in the case of this project, the ends more than justify the means.

Berndt-Baker betrothal told

The engagement of and plans for the fall wedding of Miss Janet Baker and Army Specialist Four Harold Joseph Berndt are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hairel Baker, 2819 Myrtle Ave.

Miss Baker is attending Granite City High School South. Parents of the prospective groom, Mr. and Mrs. David Harr, reside at 3019 Namerick Drive. Spec 4 Berndt presently is stationed at Fort Devens, Mass.

Arrangements for a Nov. 21 wedding at City Temple are being completed by the betrothed couple and their families. The Rev. Eugene Cope will officiate.

Theta Theta studies music

"Enjoying Music" was the subject of a program directed by Mrs. Ellen Brokaw and Mrs. Jane Jackstadt at a meeting Monday night of Theta Theta

Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Members participated in critic discussion of a percussion band and several records supplied by the program chairmen.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Linda Yates, 18 Nassau St.

A review of a mothers' salad luncheon also was held, followed by a wine and cheese tasting party.

Others attending were Sandy DeMoulin, Martha Gianakos, Linda Givens, Mary Morgan, Debbie Parmley, Phyllis Talley, Joyce Tracy and Jane Yates.

Rev. W. D. Haynes new GC minister

The Rev. William D. Haynes officially was installed in special ceremonies at 7:30 p.m. Sunday as the new minister of the Pentecostal Church of God, East 24th and Bromley streets.

Officiating at the services was the Rev. Allen Wunsch, Illinois district superintendent of the Pentecostal Churches of God.

He also read a charge to Rev. Haynes and his wife, Mrs. Donna Haynes, who both arrived here six weeks ago to assume the pastoral duties at the church.

Sunday school is conducted at 9:45 a.m. each week, followed by worship services at 11 a.m. on Sunday. Evening services are held at 7:30 p.m. each Sunday and Thursday.

Fidelis Class holds supper

A 6 p.m. pot-luck supper was held Monday night at the Second Baptist Church for members of the Fidelis Class and their families.

The Rev. B. E. Dutton gave the invocation and Mrs. Delores Ayres offered prayer. Class members recited the 23rd Psalm in keeping with the devotions given by Mrs. Ruby Mayberry.

Mrs. Mina Duggins presided at the piano and accompanied Mrs. Louise Mitchell who sang a solo. The class joined Mrs. Mitchell in singing the class hymn.

A sunshine box was prepared for a church member who is ill and will be delivered this week.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson, Mrs. Dutton, Carl Ayres, Mrs. Kay Pearson, Mrs. Gertrude Bundy, Mary Ann Phil, Mary Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Patterson, Ruth Chapman, Cora E. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clausen, Ruth Hassler, Donald Mayberry, Florence Paul, Laverne Corbett and daughter Ann, Della Corbett, Danny Haug, Mr. and Mrs. John Cavins. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Myra Grose, 1633 Venice Ave.

New lottery game starts next week

DR. CLARENCE W. STEPHENS. The longtime Southern Illinois University administrator and educator will receive an honorary doctor of humane letters degree at the June 13 SIUC commencement. He is a past SIUC vice president for operations, past special assistant to the SIUC chancellor and past chairman of the University Administrative Council.

A new Illinois state lottery game—Super Slam—will get underway next week with tickets scheduled to go on sale Tuesday. The game will offer a top prize of $1,000 per week for life.

The game is designed to raise lottery revenue to $3.5 million a week and will offer intermediate prizes of $1,000 per month for life, according to Lottery Superintendent Ralph Betch.

Super Slam will operate similarly to the Grand Slam game recently concluded. It will consist of 12 preliminary drawings and a final drawing for a grand prize.

Each $1 ticket contains 15 individual numbers for weekly cash prizes of from $5 to $1,000, and seven numbers for the super prize of $1,000 a month for life. Second prize in the super drawing is $50,000 and third prize is $10,000. All qualifiers are guaranteed $1,000.

A qualifying drawing for the World Series prize of $1,000 a week will be held Sept. 5.

Six-day revival to open Sunday

The Rev. and Mrs. Harlow Keel of Granite City will participate in revival services at the Community Heights Assembly of God Church, Faith and Huxton avenues, which are scheduled to begin Sunday, June 8.

The Rev. Jeff Smith, host pastor, has invited the public to attend the services each night at 7:30.

The Keels recently held positions as associate pastors at Cullendale Assembly of God in Camden, Ark. and at First Assembly of God in El Dorado, Ark., before returning to the evangelistic field.

Their duties at each church involved youth, music and Christian education. They are in full time ministry and travel throughout most of the United States.

Rev. Keel was licensed with the Arkansas District Council of the Assemblies of God in 1974. He has held papers with the Assemblies of God since April 1973. The Keels were married Sept. 28, 1974, in Peoria, Mo., which is Mrs. Keel's home.

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley R. Self, who were married at the Mount Olive Pentecostal Church. The bride is the former Miss Barbara Lee Mothershed, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Mothershed, Highway 162, Granite City.

Barbara Mothershed and Wesley R. Self are wed

Miss Barbara Lee Mothershed, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Mothershed, Highway 162, Granite City, and Wesley R. Self, a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Self of Caseyville, were united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. April 19 at the Mount Olive (Ill.) Pentecostal Church.

The Rev. William C. Shemona performed the double ring ceremony and Carol Treese sang "Whether Thou Goest," accompanied by Cindy Adair at the piano.

For her wedding, the former Miss Mothershed chose a full length gown of Chantilly lace, featuring a high neckline, long fitted sleeves and a bouffant skirt.

She wore a petal headpiece to hold in place her shoulder length veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath with touches of blue.

The maid of honor, Miss Glenda Mothershed, a cousin of the bride, and the best woman, Miss Joyce White, chose long frocks of blue organza.

Each wore a white picture hat and held a bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath.

Charles and Toni Mothershed, a brother and sister of the bride, served as ringbearer and flower girl. She wore a blue knit dress made with a white ruffled collar and carried a white basket of flower petals.

Mike Blaylock attended the groom as best man. Mitchell Self, a brother of the groom, was the groomsman.

Ushers were Kelly Self, the groom's sister, and Vicki Sperandio.

Robbie Treese and Billie Ray Mothershed, cousins of the bride, were dressed to resemble a miniature bride and groom.

groom and proceeded the wedding party down the white carpeted aisle.

Mrs. Mothershed chose a formal length blue gown and the groom's mother, Mrs. Self, selected a full length dress in lavender.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Collinsville. The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner.

The bride attended Granite City High School North. Her husband graduated from O'Fallon High School and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He is now employed at Monsanto Chemical Co.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Blanton, Mrs. Clara Edgar, Mrs. Susan Payne and son, Richard, and Cindy McKelvey, all of Paragould, Ark., and Paul Barnhardt of Jonesboro State College.

Aiassi listed in Who's Who in U.S.

Eugene L. Aiassi, art education administrative consultant for the Granite City School District, has been selected to appear in the 1975 edition of Who's Who in the United States, a biographical dictionary of outstanding citizens of this country.

According to Dr. Clarence R. Carson, director of the Honorary Society of America, Washington, D.C., "This is a literary publication, which will be placed in libraries throughout the United States and the western world. It has been preassigned a Library of Congress index number 74-24774, and will be filed there as an asset to students and researchers through the years."

The society numbers on its board of advisors, many presidents and chairmen of major colleges and universities of the western countries. A high criteria, selection policy is maintained, Dr. Carson said, noting that each biographical sketch is carefully examined by staff members to determine worthiness of inclusion in the publication.

Also recently announced by the Editorial Board of American Biographical Institute, Aiassi was selected to appear in the 1975-76 biennial edition of Community Leaders and Noteworthy Americans. The honor is accorded in recognition of past national achievements and outstanding service to community and state.

Meet on proposal for separate locks to handle small vessels

The possibility of developing independent facilities for locking small recreation craft through Mississippi River locks will be the subject of a public meeting to be held by the St. Louis District, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, at the Maxon Room of the Hotel East Nottel Hotel, Fourth and Washington, St. Louis. The meeting will start at 7 p.m. Monday, June 4.

A study is being initiated by the Corps along the entire Mississippi and the St. Louis meeting will discuss the Missouri and Illinois part of the study effort.

Other meetings are being held in Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Increased use of the river for recreation has created a potential need for measures to be considered to avoid conflict with commercial vessels, a spokesman said.

The river area to be considered in the St. Louis meeting starts just below Lock and Dam No. 22 south of Hannibal, Mo., and continues downstream to Locks and Dam No. 26 at Alton, Ill.

A peak count shows that over 6,000 recreation craft may use this area.

All concerned citizens, property and boat owners, civic, business and environmental groups, as well as state, local and federal agencies are welcome to attend the meeting and express their views, the Army Engineer District has announced.

Yemm heads 708 board

Ralph K. Yemm of Wood River was elected chairman of the Madison County Mental Health 708 Board Monday at the board's regular 7:30 meeting at the Edwardsville courthouse.

The successor Wayne Briggwater of E. Alton.

Sylvester Huger of Collinsville was re-elected vice chairman, and Lloyd Patterson, 1012 Second St., Venice, was re-elected secretary.

The new officers are elected to one-year terms.

Other board members are Briggwater, Dr. P. Horton, Alton; Edwin F. Boyd, Granite City; and James De Ruit, Granite City.

Business degree from Barrington

David Warren Burlingame, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burlingame, 2625 Iowa St., graduated from Barrington College, Barrington, R.I., in late May. He received a bachelor of science degree, majoring in business.

The commencement address by Dr. Anthony Campolo, chairman of the Department of Sociology at Eastern College, St. Davids, Pa., was entitled "What to do while you're waiting for the Second Coming."

Dr. Louis E. Caister, acting president of Barrington College, presented diplomas. The four-day commencement exercises were held on the campus green facing the large administration building, which once served as an exclusive estate. Over 1,500 parents, students and guests attended.

Barrington is a Christian college of arts and sciences with degree programs in 17 majors and related programs. It is co-educational and has about 520 students from most of the states, 12 foreign countries and 30 denominations. It is located seven miles from Providence and is on Narragansett Bay.

Pleads innocent

At attorney for William P. Yarbrough, 50, of the 2400 block of Benton St., Monday entered a plea of innocent for Yarbrough on a battery charge and requested a non-jury trial.

Yarbrough, winner of $30,000 in the Illinois state lottery May 15, was arrested at his home May 20 on a complaint by Serge Dupont that Yarbrough had given him cause to fear he was going to be beaten on July 19, 1975.

Police had been unable to serve the warrant due to an incorrect address until Yarbrough's correct address, supposed newspaper, after he won the lottery. The trial is to be held later this month.

Presented TV Emmy Award

John A. Martinelli, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nott, 1638 Edison Ave., received a television Emmy Award for his film editing of the "Legend of Lizzie Borden." The film was viewed on NBC May 19.

FIRE IN DRYER

Fire did an estimated $200 damage to a gas dryer and the clothes inside during the weekend at the home of Joyce Smith, 2851 Washington Ave. Firemen said they believe the dryer was improperly vented.

Martinelli's wife, Norma Jean, was born in Granite City.

Her sister Mrs. Mary Margaret Nott attended the Emmy award dinner held at the Hollywood Paladium.

Martinelli currently is working on a science fiction film starring Rock Hudson.

HENRY OLIVER FUNERAL

The family of Russell Oliver of Old Allen Road was called to East Prairie, Mo., by the death of his father, Henry Oliver, who died suddenly. Burial took place Sunday.

Open house Friday

An open house will be held Friday at White Realty which opened Monday in offices at 3516 Nameoki Road. The new firm is operated by James C. Whit, president of the Granite City Board of Realtors and a realtor in Granite City for the past seven years.

The new firm will specialize in residential appraisals and sales. During the open house, refreshments will be served and flowers will be given to the ladies.

Bridal shower for Melia Wofford

A kitchen bridal shower was given this week honoring Melia Wofford in the home of Mrs. Melanie McFarland, 3559 Westchester Drive, Miss Helen Gyarmati co-hosted the event.

A red and white color scheme was used in decorating. Chicken-shaped potatoholders made from red and white checked gingham were given as favors.

Salad and dessert were served to Mrs. Mary Wofford, mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Janis Rosenberg, mother of the groom-elect, Shirley Lane, Dorothy Anderson, Pat Steiner, Linda Vaughn, Mary Vasquez.

Rita Rosenberg, Kathleen Lane, Cecelia Herman, Virginia Apperson, Cindy Sparks, Debbie Selph, Jeanne Woods, Jeneal Pomeroy, Marlene Nenn, Susan Willard, Karen Lengel and Dawn Lengel. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Jeanne Woods, Shirley Lane, Dorothy Anderson, Cecelia Herman, Jeneal Pomeroy and Mrs. Wofford.

The honoree will be married to David Rosenberg on July 12 at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

RETURN TO TEXAS
Mr. and Mrs. Verne L. Hargrave have returned to their home in Arlington, Tex. They were called here due to the death of her mother, Mrs. Ida Beyer.

Nameoki PTA honors Mrs. Vera Farrow

Mrs. Vera Farrow, a teacher for 33 years, including 26 years in the Granite City School District, was honored by the Nameoki Parent-Teacher-Association prior to her retirement this week at the conclusion of the current school year.

Mrs. Farrow taught lower primary grade classes for many years at Nameoki School before being assigned as a learning disabilities teacher at both the Frohardt and Nameoki buildings.

She is a past president of the Granite City Area Council of PTAs and the Nameoki PTA unit. She has held numerous chairmanships and served in other offices in the Parent-Teacher organization.

At the Nameoki meeting, Mrs. Farrow served as installing officer for the 1975-76 officer corps. Accepting the oath of responsibility were: Mrs. Linda Givens, president; Nameoki Principal Don Kopp, vice president; Mrs. Donna Halbert, recording secretary; Mrs. Patty Neud, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Judy Joyce, treasurer.

Mrs. Farrow's husband and children were among other family members and guests attending the program, which was conducted on the gymnasium stage.

Mrs. Phyllis Brusatti, Mrs. Virginia Apperson and Mrs. Katie Wilson were in charge of arrangements and decorated the area to resemble a classroom scene.

Special guests introduced were Frank Farrow, the honoree's husband; her daughter, Mrs. Linda Howell and son, Eugene; her son, Jack Farrow; a sister, Mrs. Vivian Padgett of West Plains, Mo.; her mother-in-law, Mrs. Maude Farrow of Summersville, Mo.; a cousin, Clinton Smith; and Mrs. Leola Hampton, a close friend.

Among other friends and associates present were Granite City Superintendent of Schools R. J. Davis and Mrs. Davis; Vasil Efthimiou, administrative assistant-pupil personnel; and Mrs. Efthimiou, Larry R. Dew, director of Special Education District Region I; and William S. Mills, Special Education supervisor.

In addition to the honors accorded Mrs. Farrow, the PTA unit also presented a "Life Membership Award" and pin to Joel Tester, citing his "contributions and service to PTA for many years."

After the program, a reception honoring Mrs. Farrow was held in the cafeteria, with the retiring teacher receiving many gifts from the PTA unit, co-workers, family and friends.

Jaycee-Ettes

elect Mrs. Jones

Mrs. Carolyn Jones was elected president of the Granite City Jaycee-Ettes at a meeting last week at the Jaycee Clubhouse on Poplar Street.

Others elected to serve in 1975-76 were: Mrs. Peggy Hoffmann, vice president; Mrs. Nancy Krause, secretary; and Mrs. Janis Weible, treasurer.

A joint installation of the Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes will take place Saturday, June 13 at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant, East Alton.

Mrs. Linda Weible and Mrs. Pat Aleman will staff the immunization clinic Saturday morning at St. Elizabeth Hospital, and the latter will serve as hostess at the regular business session in June.

A buffet dinner provided by the members was served after the meeting to those named and to Mesdames Marleen Ross, Wanda Hill, Sharon Cooper and Diane Warshoff.

BRIDE-ELECT, Miss Wanda Mae Smith, whose engagement to Danny Bill McBride, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Menford M. Smith of Redford, Mo., formerly of Granite City. A July wedding is planned.

McBride-Smith engagement

Former residents of Granite City, Mr. and Mrs. Menford M. Smith, who now reside in Redford, Mo., are announcing the engagement and approaching wedding of their daughter, Miss Wanda Mae Smith, to Danny Bill McBride.

The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett McBride of Cape Girardeau, Mo. He is a 1972 graduate of

Truxton Allens mark 35 years

Mr. and Mrs. Truxton Allen were guests of honor at a dinner party this week given in observance of their 35th wedding anniversary at the Round Table Restaurant, Collinsville, by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Allen.

Bouquets of summer blossoms in pastel shades decorated the tables, and cake in the shape of wedding bells, topped with the numerals "35," centered the main table.

Those attending were Scott Allen, grandson of the honorees; Mrs. Eva Evans, mother of Mr. Allen; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Allen, a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thurber, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thornberry, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Busch, Miss June Jones, Mrs. Helen Wolford of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bushaw, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Voss of Edwardsville, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kraus, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stagle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Darvin Drenkahn of Collinsville and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Busch.

DEPART FOR SOUTH
Mrs. Patricia Johnson has returned to her home in Louisville, Ky., and Mrs. Bonnie Brantley and Mrs. Alby B. Baxter have returned to their homes in Dunbar, Ky., after visiting their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Martin.

Training for happiness in old age

I was a young man once. I still remember how I would suppress my thoughts about old age by telling myself I shouldn't indulge in "negative thinking."

Preparation for my declining years, I felt, would rob me of my enthusiasm... take my mind off the important things I was doing.

Funny how I don't see them as my "declining years" now. I'm in good health. Looks like I'm going to be declining for a long time, and I'm wondering what I'm going to do for 20, maybe 30 years.

I want to live until die... not just sit around remembering. These words could have been spoken by millions of elderly people who missed their chances to wrest happiness from old age because they didn't prepare for it when they were able to. None of them were themselves existing instead of living.

They needed help when they were younger. Yet, most government and private programs are still designed only to help the elderly cope with their problems, according to a new survey by the Family Economics Bureau.

What the nation's not-yet-elderly need now, the Bureau concludes, is help in avoiding the preventable problems of old age.

"It is just as logical to prepare for the later stages of life as it is to prepare for the earlier stages," said John B. Martin Jr., commissioner of the U. S. Administration on Aging.

One woman with steel-gray hair and matching eyes that belie her 76 years speaks with the wisdom of hindsight when she says: "As I see it, old age is just a new phase of life — like the phase that becah... you got married or when you graduated from high school or college and started a full-time job."

"Old age, you know, can be your second chance — a time for a new start. You can even start a second career. Old age can be a beginning."

However, if a person doesn't have a purposeful activity in his old years, he's in trouble. Old age in itself isn't incapacitating, but feeling useless and unneeded is debilitating. You've got to go into training for old age.

But, most people who are 20 years or more from the old age tends to remain level until just prior to death," says Dr. Eric Pfeiffer, author of "Behavior and Adaptation in Late Life."

Degenerative diseases: Feebleness and infirmity are not inevitable. Many people are active and healthy until they're very old.

About 15 per cent of people over 65 have no degenerative diseases. About 15,000 Americans are more than 100 years old.

No sexual activity: More than 7 out of 10 healthy married couples over 60 are sexually active — some into their late 80s, according to the Duke University School of Medicine.

Many negative thoughts about old age are dispelled by a recent Roper Organization poll that found people over 65 are more likely than people of any other age to call the retirement years "the best years of life."

They ought to know. Some older and wiser men and women give the following counsel to those who still have time to prepare for the new phase of life called old age.

"Eliminate that word 'retirement' from your vocabulary," says one. "It implies that you should stop doing whatever you'd been doing all your life and it's no help in telling you what you should do instead."

Why shouldn't a commercial artist continue to draw if he enjoys it?

Why shouldn't a real estate salesman continue to preside at open houses — less frequently, perhaps — if he enjoys it?

Why shouldn't a carpenter continue to make an occasional set of hand-crafted cabinets if he enjoys making something durable and decorative?

Such pursuits are great for self-employed people who can continue doing what they've always liked doing.

But what about all those employed people to whom their employers at 65 (or earlier) say, "You've made many notable contributions to the company, but now it's 'Good-bye.'"

To such people, says a former business executive, "Maybe there's something you always wanted to do but never had time for. Prepare, now, to start this activity as soon as you quit working full time."

"But, if you can't identify anything that you'd like to do," he says, "Start looking. Read, attend lectures, even go to school. Maybe you'll end up becoming active in a charitable cultural, social or service organization. Then you'll merely continue the activity after you finish full-time employment."

It's important to take care of your health, many retired people say. They know that one might as well forget about pursuing a meaningful activity if he's sick all the time.

The person who smokes and drinks heavily all his life is likely to wonder how he could have been so stupid after he's old and suffering the consequences. You can't prevent all the infirmities of old age; but you can prevent a lot of them.

Those who retired some time ago, financially secure, value their security and know how vital it is.

Social Security payments aren't likely to be enough, so life insurance can be a godsend. A life insurance agent can propose a plan that will provide retirement income, if you aren't covered by a group retirement plan — or even if you are.

You might outlive your financial resources. If a person is 40 or 50 years old, he's most likely going to continue living as long in the future as he's lived already.

Independent businesses will confer

Among the independent business people registered to attend a conference on small business to be held by the National Federation of Independent Business in Washington, D.C., June 15-18, are Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lindsay of L. E. Lindsay Construction Co., 3308 Highway 162, Granite City.

The local firm, founded in 1967, currently employs 45 people.

A major theme of the conference, called by Wilson Johnson, NFIB president, will be to focus national attention on the potential job-producing capabilities of small and independent firms.

Although the nation's small business section currently provides 60 per cent of all the non-farm, non-governmental jobs, independent business is experiencing severe handicaps in enlarging its employment rolls, the NFIB is contending.

Johnson cites "an inequitable tax situation, access to capital, excessive government spending, and excessive regulation of even the smallest enterprises seeking to gain a start." These issues will be discussed and brought to the attention of government leaders during the conference.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL: Walter Westbrook, 38, of 223 Holiday Mobile Homes, was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:30 a.m. Saturday after his auto left the road and crashed on State Aid Route 25, a quarter mile southeast of Route 162. He suffered bruises to the face and bleeding from his mouth and nose. He apparently lost control of the vehicle on wet grass.

R. S. Lawson certified as CPA

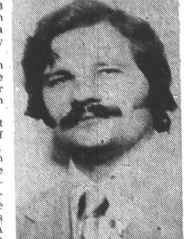

Robert S. Lawson, 3913 Gaslight Walk, Apt. 1, has been awarded a certificate as a certified public accountant by the University of Illinois.

He received the certificate in ceremonies in Chicago by the Illinois Society of CPAs to honor the 702 successful candidates in the State of Illinois.

The certificate was the result of the successful completion of the Uniform CPA examination. At that exam over 38,000 candidates were tested nationwide and approximately 7,000 were successful in passing. The University of Illinois has awarded over 17,600 CPA certificates since 1903 when it was given the responsibility of examining and certifying accountants.

Lawson graduated from Central Missouri State University with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration majoring in accounting in May 1969. He previously was employed by the St. Louis firms of Arthur Young, CPAs, and Robert B. Erger, CPA.

Lawson has been accepted as a member by both the Illinois Society of CPAs and the Missouri Society of CPAs. His certificate is being registered with the state of Illinois for practice as a CPA. Temporarily his business address will be P.O. Box 952, Nameoki Station, Granite City, 62040.

Kodaly music education workshop

A workshop based on the Kodaly Concepts of Music Education will be given at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, June 16-21. Sessions will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 7 p.m. each day in Room 1402 of the Peck Classroom Building.

Klara Nemcs, guest clinician from Liszt Academy of Music in Budapest, Hungary, will present Kodaly methods and concepts with demonstrations using video tapes, according to Dorothy E. Tullos, professor of music at the University.

Mass Nemes has spent the past four years as a music specialist in the Connecticut public school system. Other instructors will include Prof. Tullos, Johnetta Haley and Elizabeth Thack, members of the SIUE faculty. The workshop, which can be taken for academic credit or attended as a conference, will be of special interest to area music specialists, classroom teachers, church choir directors and applied music teachers. Students who wish to gain academic credit should sign up for Music 455 or Music 463. Four quarter hours will be given to students in Music 455. No term paper is required for the course. Students can sign up for one to three quarter hours credit in Music 455 (Readings in Music Education). A term paper will be required for this course.

A $15 fee is required for students who wish to attend the conference without academic credit. Fees are to be paid at the first session.

Intermediate and advanced classes will meet in the afternoon only. Classes will run for three weeks. The first session will begin Monday the second of July 7 and the third begins July 20. Cost is free to Y members and $15 per session for non-members. Classes for adults will meet on Monday evenings for ten weeks. Cost is members free and non-members $20. Starting date is June 9.

Classes for children 3 to 6 who are accustomed to being in the water will meet Monday evenings for ten weeks. The class is free to members and non-members will pay $15. Starting date is June 9.

Classes for pre-schoolers 6 months to 3 years will meet on Wednesday evenings for ten weeks, starting June 11. Cost is $15 to non-members.

More information on classes may be obtained at the Y, 2001 Edison Ave. or by calling 678-7200. The Y is a United Way Agency.

2 hurt in crash

The autos of Robert Dietrich, 213 Lincoln Ave., and Charles Smith, 1335 Fourth St., Madison, collided on Madison Avenue south of 27th Street at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Two passengers in Smith's auto were injured. Connie Smith, 3, of the same address suffered pain to her left shoulder and chest. She was released following treatment. Donna Smith, 32, also was injured but did not require hospital treatment.

$255 THEFT FROM TRUCK

A $215 citizens' band radio, a $20 amplifier and a $20 electrical meter were stolen from the pickup truck of George Sanders, 2030 Dale Ave., parked at his home. It was reported Monday. A vent window was pried open to gain entry. A window to Sanders' auto, parked nearby, also was broken but it is not believed entry was gained into the car.

Madison pupils to Boys' State

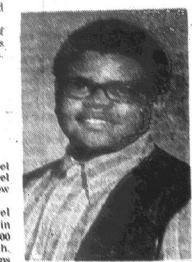

Richard Allen Brown, son of Mrs. Mildred Brown, 139 Viola Jones Homes, Venice, and Mark Jiles, 119 Second St., W. Madison, son of Mrs. Helen Jiles, have been selected as delegates to the American Legion Premier Boys' State.

Each boy is a junior at Madison High School, and has been approved by American Legion Post 798, of which Victor A. Valentine Sr. is commander. Boys' State will be held at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, from June 14-21.

Brown is sponsored by the Madison Shrine Club, Attention Temple 132, of which Freddie Williams is president and Robert Balts is president. The Newport Road Twister of which Hayward Murphy is president is sponsoring Jiles.

April's steel output lowest in three years

In April, domestic raw steel production fell to its lowest level in this country since 1949, new statistics showed this week.

American Iron and Steel Institute data shows mills in this country made 10,660,000 tons of steel during the month. This was a drop of 1,320,000 tons from March's 11,980,000 tons. Output and marked the lowest one-month steel production total since July 1972, when domestic producers poured 10,341,000 tons.

Six of every 10 tons of steel made in April of this year came from basic oxygen furnaces, the most modern large-volume steelmaking equipment in existence. BOFs made 6,380,000 tons of steel in April, compared with 2,139,000 tons for open hearths and 2,121,000 tons for electric furnaces.

Through the first four months of 1975, domestic steel output was 43,066,000 tons. Of this total, 27,441,000 tons came from BOFs, 12,302,000 tons from open hearths and 9,492,000 tons from electric furnaces. AISI's steelmaking index, based on average 1967 production as 100, stood at 102.0 in April 1975. This compares with an index of 110.8 for March and 111.3 for February.

Triple Lodge hosts family picnic

Masonic Triple Lodge 635 held a family picnic this week at Wilson Park, featuring a variety of games for both adults and children during the afternoon.

Worshipful Master Martin Love and Junior Warden Dick Staggs were in charge of the food and refreshments. There were 250 who attended the outing, including past masters of the lodge who participated in a special race.

Commission to Chilton

James P. Chilton, son of Mrs. Madeline A. Chilton, 22 Hanson Drive, was commissioned an Army second lieutenant upon graduation from the Infantry Officer Candidate School at Fort Benning, Ga., in May. During the 14-week course, Lt. Chilton was trained in leadership, small unit tactics and infantry weapons. He also received instruction in map and aerial photograph reading, and counterinsurgency operations.

AUTO IS STOLEN
The dark green Lincoln Continental Mark III automobile of Jim Kelly, Canoga, Calif., was stolen from Cleveland Boulevard near 19th Street, it was reported Monday. The car is a two-door hardtop with California license plates.

Graduate English course planned

The English language and literature department of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a graduate course, Problems in the Teaching of English (Eng. 581c), during the summer quarter.

Although the course will utilize an old title, it will be concerned with a new approach to the teaching of literature, according to Theresa Love, associate professor. More attention will be given to what is called "reader response," she said.

Readings will include both traditional and modern selections of American and English literature. Some of the less traditional readings will be works in para-psychology, science fiction, detective stories and the Bible, Prof. Love said.

Classes will meet from 11:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. five days weekly. More information may be obtained by contacting the English language and literature department, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville. Registration for the summer quarter is scheduled June 19 in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

PRICE CONTROLS

On March 8, 1973, the Nixon administration imposed mandatory price controls on 23 of the country's biggest oil companies.

GC churches combine for vacation school

Three local churches will join forces to present Vacation Bible School at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, beginning Monday and continuing through June 18. Sessions will take place each weekday from 1 to 2 p.m.

Co-sponsoring the program are First United Presbyterian Church, St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ and Niedringhaus United Methodist.

All children from 3-year-old preschoolers to eighth grade pupils are invited to attend the two-week school, including students from the three sponsoring churches, their neighbors, friends and residents from the community at large, according to the vacation school directors.

Registration will be taken Sunday at all three churches, or on opening day at the host church. Services as co-directors are Jane Ann Vaneiler and Carol Carpenter, Niedringhaus United Methodist; Pauline Schanks and Connie Cornelison, St. Peter's Church; and Marilyn Rodman and Norma Macios, First United Presbyterian.

Two teacher-training sessions have been held under the direction of the Rev. Robert Kottelhub, pastor of St. Peter's Church. Special interest activities for youngsters in the first through eighth grades were planned, such as stichery, and puppet-making, creative crafts and rocketry, among others.

As a special missions project at this year's school, a goal of $50 has been set to provide live chicks to underdeveloped countries through "Heifer Projects," a division of the Church World Services program.

Among the Vacation Bible School teachers are Carol Braunmiller, Carol Carpenter, Joy Causey, JoAnn Smith, Paulette Patterson, Kevin

Braunmiller, Sandy Lane, Marilyn Deatherage, Barb Potts, Laura Deatherage, Mary Livingston, Mike Loftus, Jean Maxwell, JoAnn Dix, Norma Macios, Mary Hemphill, Joshua

Brown, Helen Kottelhub, Sharon Wheeler, Glen Cornelison, Diane Calix, Jennifer Baughn, Gary Kibrecht, Carol and Cheryl Tharp, Cindy Fuhrman, Beverly Camren, Gladys Zuker, Mary Ann Jeffries, Beverly Poole, Ellen Mae Curtis, Nancy Barnes, Sue Brinkhoff, Beverly Schutgeffer and Joyce Combs.

Travelers Abroad held its first meeting of the season at Frontier Junior High School, with President Roy Lynn in charge.

Edmund Firner, program chairman, introduced the speaker for the evening, Miss Lucinda Huck, who gave a graphic account of her 7,000-mile trip through Canada and Alaska.

All along the Alaskan Highway, Miss Huck said, now hotels, restaurants and other businesses are rapidly springing up. Every few miles, however, there are frightening scenes of the havoc wrought by landslides.

The speaker recalled seeing buildings destroyed and great trees sheared off and smashed by the landslides, which she said are considered more destructive than any tornadoes.

Her remarks were corroborated with photographs showing scenes of the extensive damage. At Point Barrow, far north of the Arctic Circle where the inhabitants are mostly Eskimos, the temperature often reaches 70 degrees below zero, she said.

Practically no motor vehicles exist there and the few buses are kept in a heated garage throughout the winter months, Miss Huck commented.

Eskimo dogs, long the chief means of transportation, have been largely replaced by the snowmobile. Although, the recent increase in the price of petroleum products has brought back to some extent the hardy dogs, she noted.

Running water in the home is unknown and impossible. In each house the winter's water supply is a great pile of ice blocks which are taken inside and melted as needed.

The winter's meat supply also is kept outside until it is frozen hard as a rock. It is then stored in sheds and taken into the home and thawed as required.

As wood and coal are unavailable, the homes are heated with oil and electricity, Miss Huck reported.

She visited the area of the Herring Strait, where Seward's Pinnacles lies within 40 miles of Siberia, with islands at the midway point.

The demonstrated reindeer in Alaska, Miss Huck said, is not a native, but is imported from Russia. The native American caribou, a much sturdier and tougher animal than its cousin, is shot if it appears among the reindeer. She explained that the caribou would lead the herd into the wild where it would survive, but the reindeer would perish.

Miss Huck continued her travels south and east, arriving at the Bay of Fundy, New Brunswick, on the Atlantic. Noted for its great rise and fall of the tide, which has been known to reach 62 feet, she said only a vast expanse of red mud can be seen at such locales as Moncton or Amherst at low tide.

The tide rushes in a bore from three to six feet in height, and rises and falls every hour and 52 seconds exactly, Miss Huck said.

The club will discontinue meetings for the summer months, resuming in September.

Guests view Pack 107 graduation

Special guests of Cub Pack 107, sponsored by Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, last week were veteran scoutmaster August Rehms, Scoutmaster Jack Tolliver and A. L. O. R. M. A. George Mangaratene.

Assistant Cubmaster Tom Penner opened with the flag ceremony, performed by Webelos Ron Buechels and Frank Wilkinson.

The boys were received into the Boy Scouts in a special ceremony led by Scoutmaster Tolliver and Rehms.

Penner presented awards to: Ron Buechels, craftsman and naturalist badges; Cub Scout Larry Hartman, two-year pin and two-year perfect attendance bar and was accepted into the Webelos Den; and Cubs Doug Rankin, silver arrow, and Theodore Adams Bear book, Bear badge and a gold and silver award point.

Ribbons were awarded to the bike rodeo winners and stickers to all who participated.

Special patches for the Illinois Pigeonage trip were presented to Larry and Kevin Williamson, Jason McGeehee, Matthew Fiechte, Doug Rankin, Eddie Hoover, Ron Buechels, Frank Wilkinson, Jeanette Wilkinson, P. J. Wilkinson, Tim Scaturro, Tim Scaturro, Terry Scaturro and Dee Scaturro.

Scout o-Rama patches for tickets sales were awarded to Steven Blatz, Terry Daniels, Larry Williamson, Ed Hoover, Matt Fiechte, Jason McGeehee, Tim Scaturro, Ron Buechels, Doug Rankin, Charles Penner, Theodore Adams, Frank Wilkinson and Russell Penner.

Bicentennial certificates for "outstanding services" by parents and friends in May, pack activities were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buechels, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Blatz, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Penner, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. William Fiechte, Mrs. Jeanette Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Williamson, Mrs. Anne Daniels, Mrs. Joanne Hartman, Tina Scaturro, Stacy Wilkinson, Delores Scaturro and John Taylor.

Two new cubs, Alfredrick Odum and Mark Williams, were welcomed into Pack 107.

A family picnic and pocket drive were scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday, June 22 in Leo Park, Venice.

Webelos Steven Blatz and Larry Hartman were in charge of the closing flag ceremony. Refreshments were served by the parents of Webelos Den 1 and 2 to conclude the meeting.

Park district to open 7 recreation centers June 16

The Granite City Park District will operate seven recreation centers for young people this summer. The seven-week program will begin June 16.

Registration will be conducted June 16 at each center, and those planning to participate are being asked to register at the center nearest their home. Weekday morning and afternoon activities are planned.

Locations are Logan, Marshall, Parkview, Wilson, Niedringhaus and Webster Schools and the park district community center in Lincoln Place.

The program at each neighborhood center will consist of art and crafts, games, picnics, free weekly swimming and special events.

The program is for children in the second grade through sixth grade.

For residents of the park district, there is no charge except for the insurance cost. Each of the seven playgrounds will form a softball team for boys and girls.

The recreation centers are only one portion of an extensive summer program that has been developed for 1973 under the guidance of the Park Board — President Henry Gabriel, Vice President Barry Loman and Commissioners Jack Hintz, Robert Patrick and George H. Sykes.

The park district staff consists of Harold E. Brown, director of parks and recreation; Michael Jesse, director of recreation; Billy J. Rollins, director of parks; Frank Rea, secretary; John Mink, treasurer; and Randall Robertson, attorney.

The summer program of refreshments and insurance fees that apply in some instances.

The season's first special trip will be to Six Flags Over Mid-America Saturday, July 12. A bus will leave the Wilson Park ice rink at 8:30 a.m. and return at 7:30 p.m.

Reservations must be made with the park district office. Six Flags tickets will be sold by local merchants.

In mid-August, a park district trip to Kansas City, Mo., will include an American League baseball game and a visit to Kansas City's Municipal Theater. A stop will be made in Independence, Mo., to see the Truman Library.

Nashville, Tenn., is scheduled as the next trip, Sept. 5-7. The Grand Ole Opry, Opryland, the Hermitage and the Country Music Hall of Fame are among the places the group will visit.

Throughout the summer, nine trips to the St. Louis Municipal Opera are planned. Five are scheduled for July and four for August.

Reservations for the round trip bus, which leaves from the circle drive at the ice rink, may be made at the Wilson Park office. Opera tickets cost $7, and bus tickets cost $1.75.

The special excursion must have a full bus or they will be canceled.

"Music Under the Stars" will be an eight-week program offered to all park district residents, beginning June 16.

Adult rehearsals will be 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays in the Granite City

High School South vocal room. Rehearsals for children in grades five through eight will be from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. in the same room.

Several family and comedy movies will be among those shown in June and July at Shelter No. 4 at Benton Street and Oregon Avenue. Admission is free.

A kindergarten class for children who attended kindergarten this past school year will meet twice weekly at the Namook Recreation Center. Insurance and 25 cents each day for refreshments are required.

Other programs include: BASEBALL SCHOOL: Instruction in baseball fundamentals will begin at 8 a.m. Monday, June 16, on Diamond No. 7 and will last for seven weeks. Eight and nine-year-olds will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. Ten through 13-year-olds meet Tuesday and Thursday mornings and Friday afternoons. Registration will be June 16 on Diamond No. 7.

SWIMMING: Group swimming instruction for children eight through 13 years of age will begin at the Wilson Park pool June 16. There will be two boys' sessions and two girls' sessions, each lasting two weeks. Registration for all classes must be made at the pool office between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. weekdays.

Instruction for women will be Wednesday from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Classes for children four months through two years and two years through seven years will be from 11:30 to noon. Dates will be announced. Someone over 16 must accompany each child.

Adults over 60 with park district identification cards may swim free from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. weekdays.

Residents with park district ID cards may swim for 50 cents less than non-residents when the pool opens June 7.

American Red Cross water safety courses also will be offered. Interested persons may call 876-7466 for details.

TENNIS:

Lessons for boys and girls eight years old through 14 years old will begin June 16 at the Wilson Park courts. Girls' instruction will be Mondays and Wednesdays. Boys' lessons will be Tuesdays and Thursdays. Instruction is free.

Adult instruction will be in the ice rink Tuesdays and Thursdays or Wednesdays and Fridays.

Registration for both classes will be on the courts in the week of June 16. Instruction for the groups will last seven weeks.

GYMNASTICS AND TUMBLING:

Classes begin June 16 at the Namook Recreation Center for children in grades one through 12. Instruction is from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays for seven weeks. Registration will be held at 1 a.m. June 16 at the center.

GOLF:

Basic golf instruction will begin June 16 at Wilson Park. Classes last for seven weeks from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays for men and boys and Tuesdays and Thursdays for women and girls. After basic instruction, the lessons will be at Arlington Golf Course.

CORD VOLLEYBALL:

Two courts will be available for the public between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Mondays, beginning June 16 and lasting through July.

Additional recreational programs are scheduled for the fall and other seasons of the year.

ALLEGIANCE PLEDGED. Members of the Granite City Daughters of Union Veterans, Tent 90, held their 41st Public Memorial Day services Friday in front of the Granite City hall with the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Sylvia Turner, patriotic instructor for Tent 90, standing behind the table, was in charge of the services attended by numerous veteran and civic groups. Participants in the program included Mayor Paul Schuler, Alderman Ronald Coleman, the Rev. Robert L. Kettelhof, Capt. and Mrs. Ronald Kerley of the Salvation Army, G. Rollin Henn of the Cahokia Mound Scout Council and Mrs. Augusta Munsterman, chaplain of Tent 90.

Gene Logas West Point appointee

Gene Logas, a senior at Granite City High School North, has been appointed by Sen. Adlai Stevenson III to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.

Logas will report to the academy July 7 for an eight-week indoctrination training course before fall classes begin.

In high school, Logas was a scholar athlete who lettered three years in basketball and two years in both football and baseball. He was voted most valuable player in baseball this year.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Logas, 6 Fairway Estates apartments, Arlington Heights.

'Y' play program opens Monday

Creative play with trained recreation leaders will be the emphasis of the Tri-City Area YMCA's summer program for youngsters age 6-13.

The program will begin Monday and continue until August 16 and will include a wide range of activities. There will be the traditional recreational swims and gym games along with BB guns, craft class, game room, story telling, skits, movies, singing and speciality days.

The program will be offered from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Youngsters are asked to bring their lunch from home and spend the day at the Y with supervision throughout the day. Those who wish to attend just in the mornings or just in the afternoons are welcome to do so.

The program is free to members and costs $1 per day for non-members.

For those individuals interested in an outdoor experience for their children, the Y will offer a 2-day camp program. The program will include transportation to and from the day camp, swimming lessons, and all of the special activities that make up camping. The camp is situated just south of Belleville off of Route 159.

Children are picked up by bus at 8 a.m. in the morning and returned at 4:30 p.m. in the afternoon.

Cost for the program is $16 per week for Y members and $19 per week for non-members. More information on either program may be obtained at the Y, 2001 Edison Ave., or by calling 876-7200. The Y is a United Way Agency.

Receive $6,144 in fines here

A total of $6,144 in fines collected by Madison County Circuit Court during April have been distributed to the Quad City area. Willard V. "Butch" Portell, circuit clerk, announced this week.

The local fines were among a total of $86,510 distributed throughout the county. Granite City received $3,867, Madison received $884, Venice $731 and Porton Beach $852. The county government received $23,887.

Maryville pupils entertain parents

Mrs. Martha Kismmer's first-grade class at Maryville School presented the play, "All About Mothers," at 9 a.m. Tuesday, June 2, for their parents.

After the play, the children had a Spanish lesson for the parents. The first graders have been learning Spanish from Susan Gasparovic since January.

Those children in the play were: Kevin Brownman, Steven Davis, Mark Pickrel, Scott Gates, Joe Papa, Darrell Young.

Paula Evans, Stacy Foreman, Gary Sikora, Derrick Randall, Tim Druke, Josh Krug, Chris Lay, Christine Gasparovic.

Roxanna White, Alicia Melton, Yasmine Beal, Missy Kosciak, Tracy Wiedner and Jane Clapp.

Two receive Legion awards

Laura Wickman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wickman, 3251 Franklin Ave., and Mike Sertich, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sertich, 2805 Birch Ave., received the American Legion award following their graduation from St. Margaret Mary Catholic School.

The presentations were made by the Rev. Edward Groesch at a banquet honoring the graduates and their parents held in the parish dining hall. Graduation exercises for 28 students were conducted by the Rev. Groesch at a special Eucharistic celebration. Sister Marie Monica is principal of the school.

Spiegel catalog store is closed

Spiegel has closed its catalog order store at 1410 Niedringhaus Ave., Martha Jane Hill of Spiegel's personal services department, has announced.

Granite City residents will now be served from Spiegel's Chicago headquarters. All Spiegel credit accounts have been transferred to the Chicago office.
